Art In New York

New York is a city of museums and art galleries, and of towering structures with sweeping classical lines. Beauty and artistry surround our city and all who live here. Throughout our great metropolis art exists in all of its phases, from architecture to painting to sculpture. But, perhaps, even more beautiful, and more representative of our city, are the people themselves, going about their work, and living their lives as part of a great city, unaware that they set the mood, and hence, create the beauty of New York.

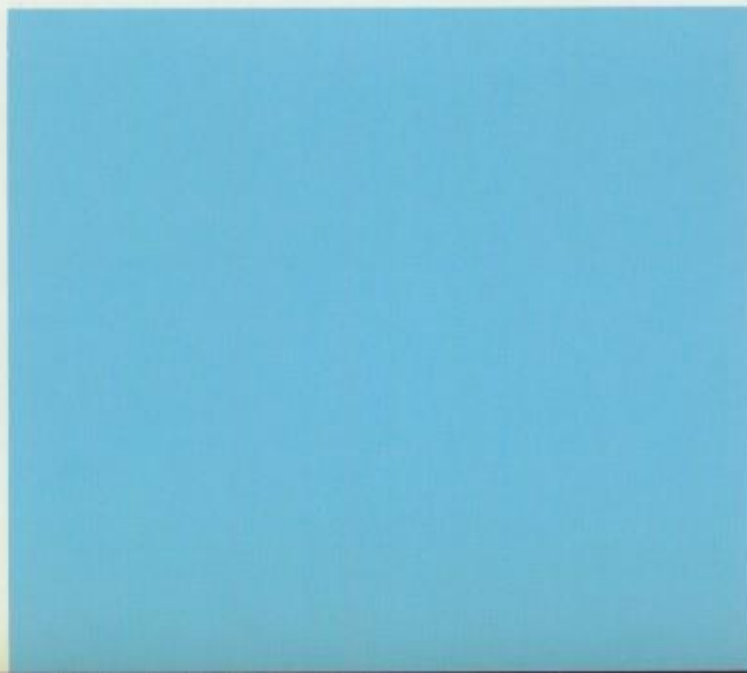

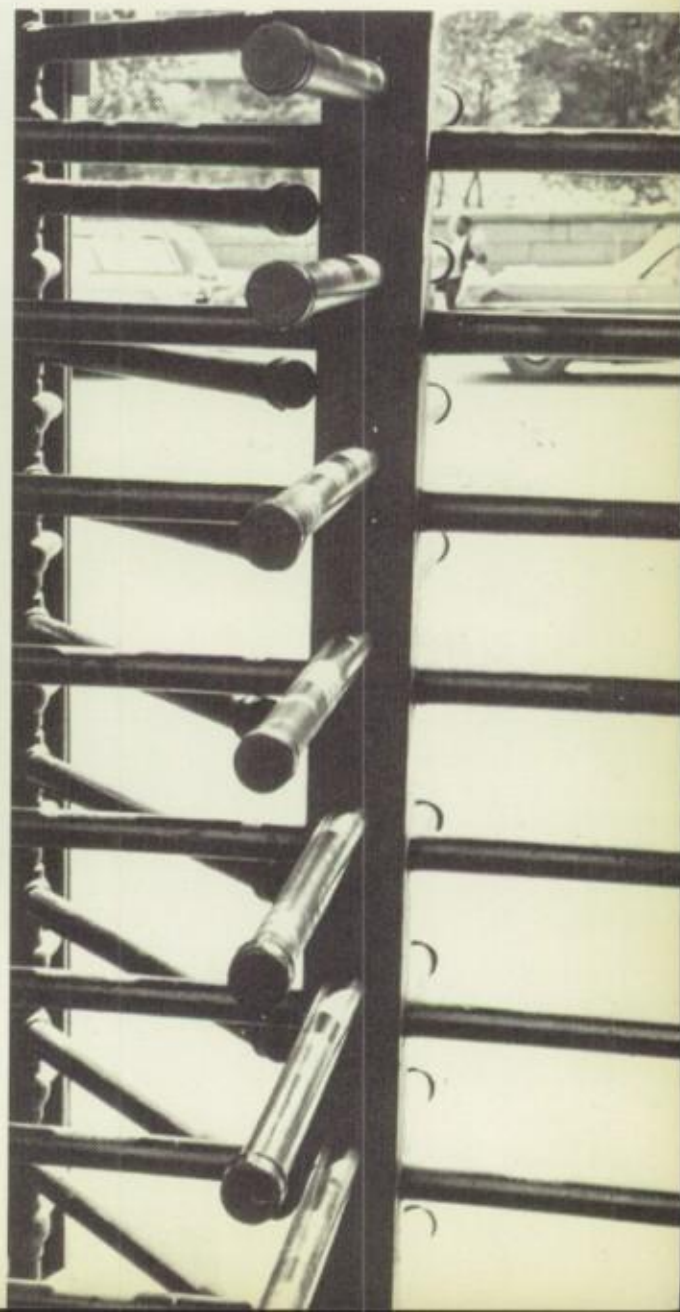

Art in Brooklyn

When a visitor comes to New York, he is usually attracted to the sights and sounds of Manhattan, often forgetting that Brooklyn too is replete with the aesthetic. Though Brooklynites are often characterized as unpolished and ignorant of the arts, in actuality, we are sophisticated and culturally aware.

Brooklyn offers to those who are interested many fine works of art. Take for example, the Verrazano Bridge; its fine lines constitute a display of the progressive characteristics of our new skyline. Witness the library-museum-park complex on Eastern Parkway. These are attractions to the eye and mind of any visitor.

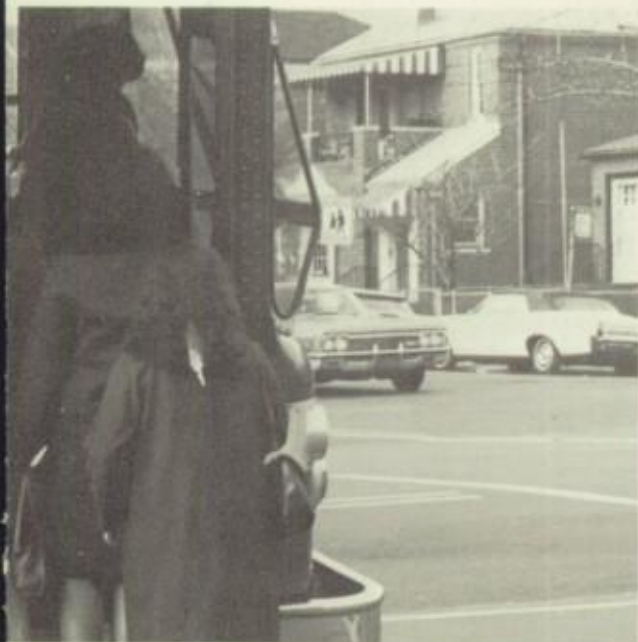

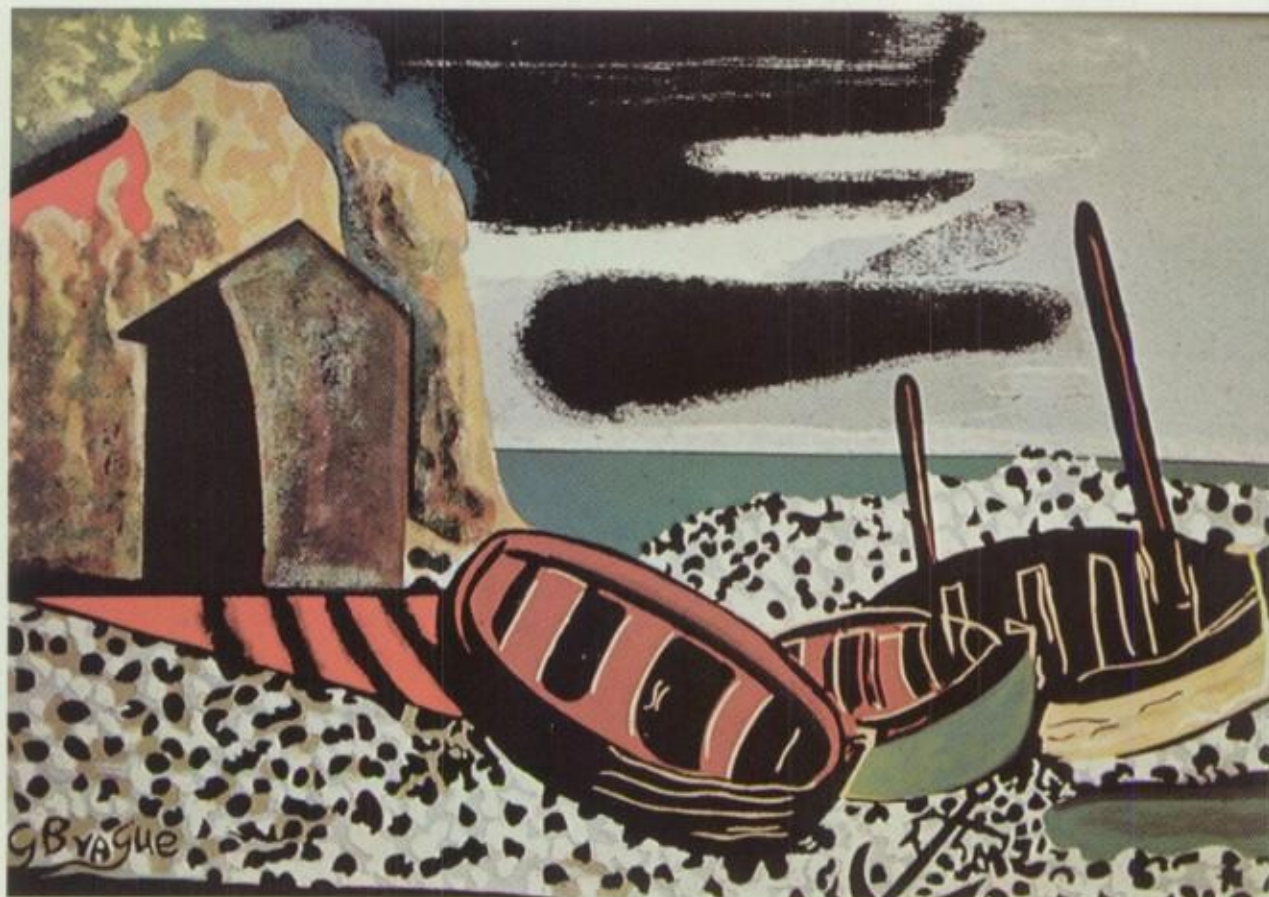

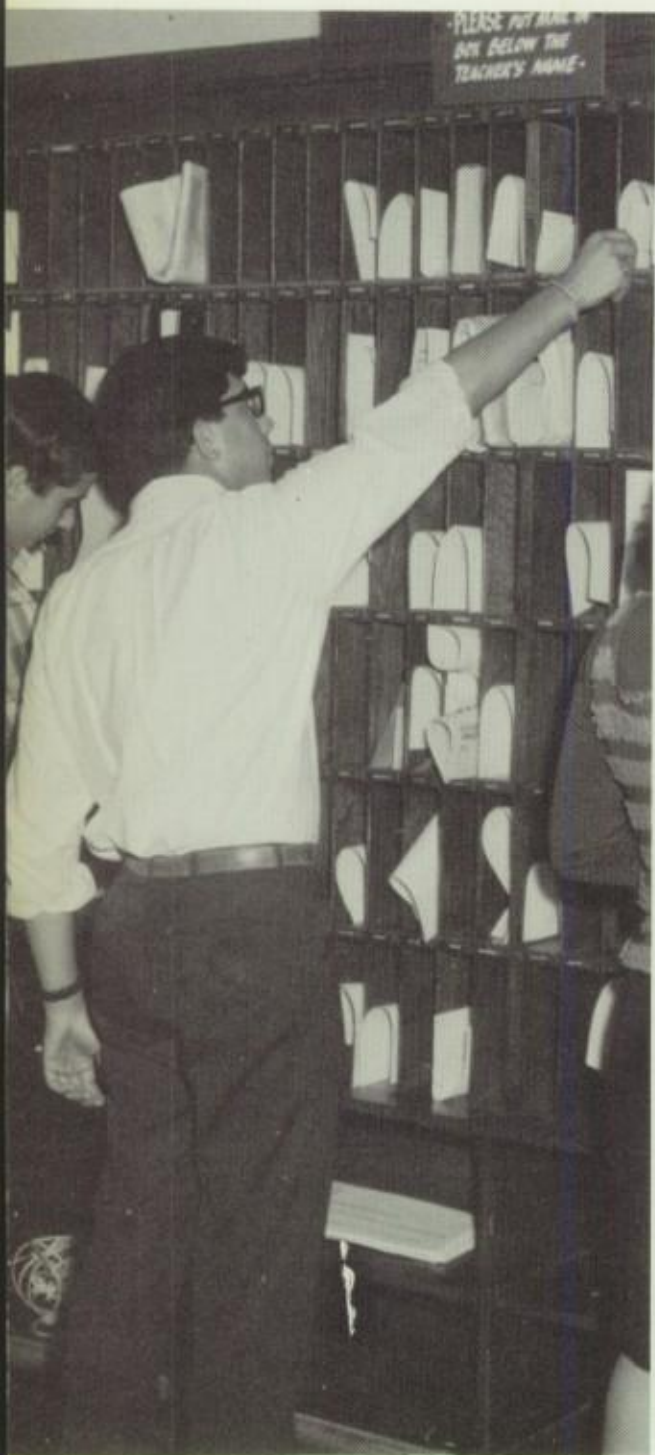

Outside Tilden

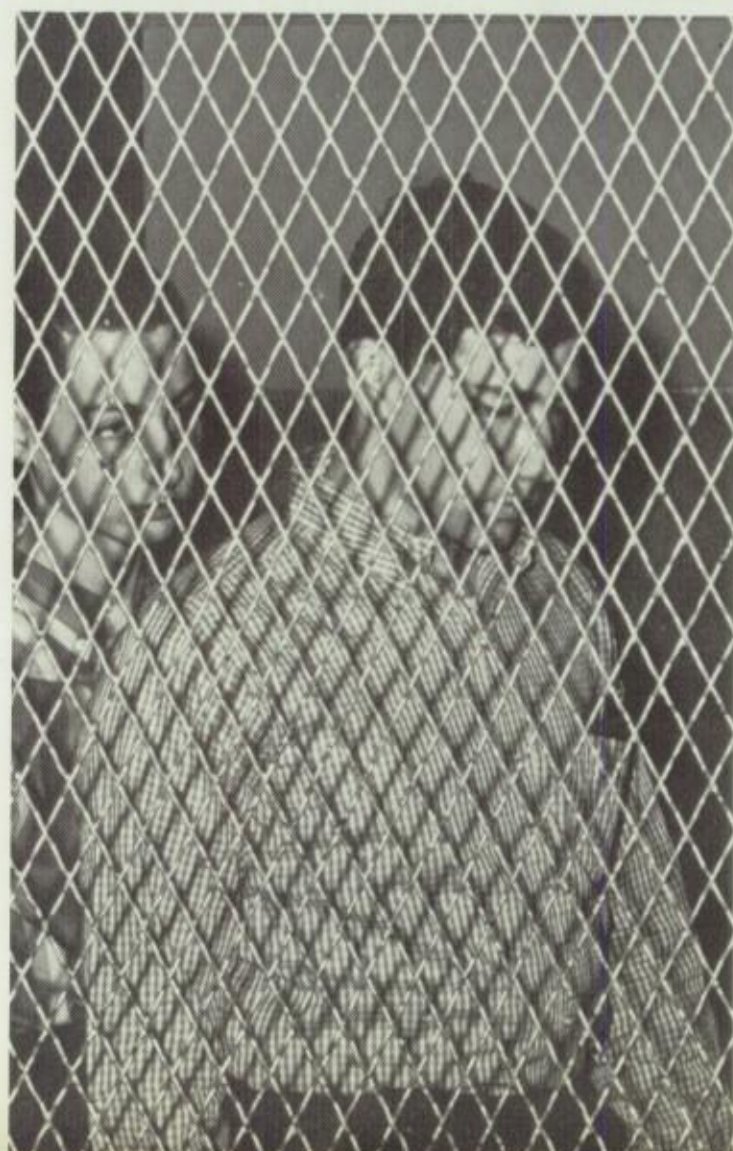

If you imagine a huge gold picture frame surrounding our school block, your eyes will fall upon a nostalgic spectacle—Samuel J. Tilden High School. In the picture one can almost feel a gusty wind in the air and the tall trees tipping their branches towards the building. Nature plentifully surrounds our beloved school. The sun's and snow's reflection on the framework make our school glow. The ordinary sights we often bypass in the pace of daily life will haunt our memory. Who could forget the street vendor selling his burnt pretzels, or Ralph, our policeman, keeping watch over us, or the groups which avariciously attack the ice cream trucks? There has always been such a rich and bountiful life around our school. We have been part of that life, part of the artwork of Tilden.

INSIDE TILDEN

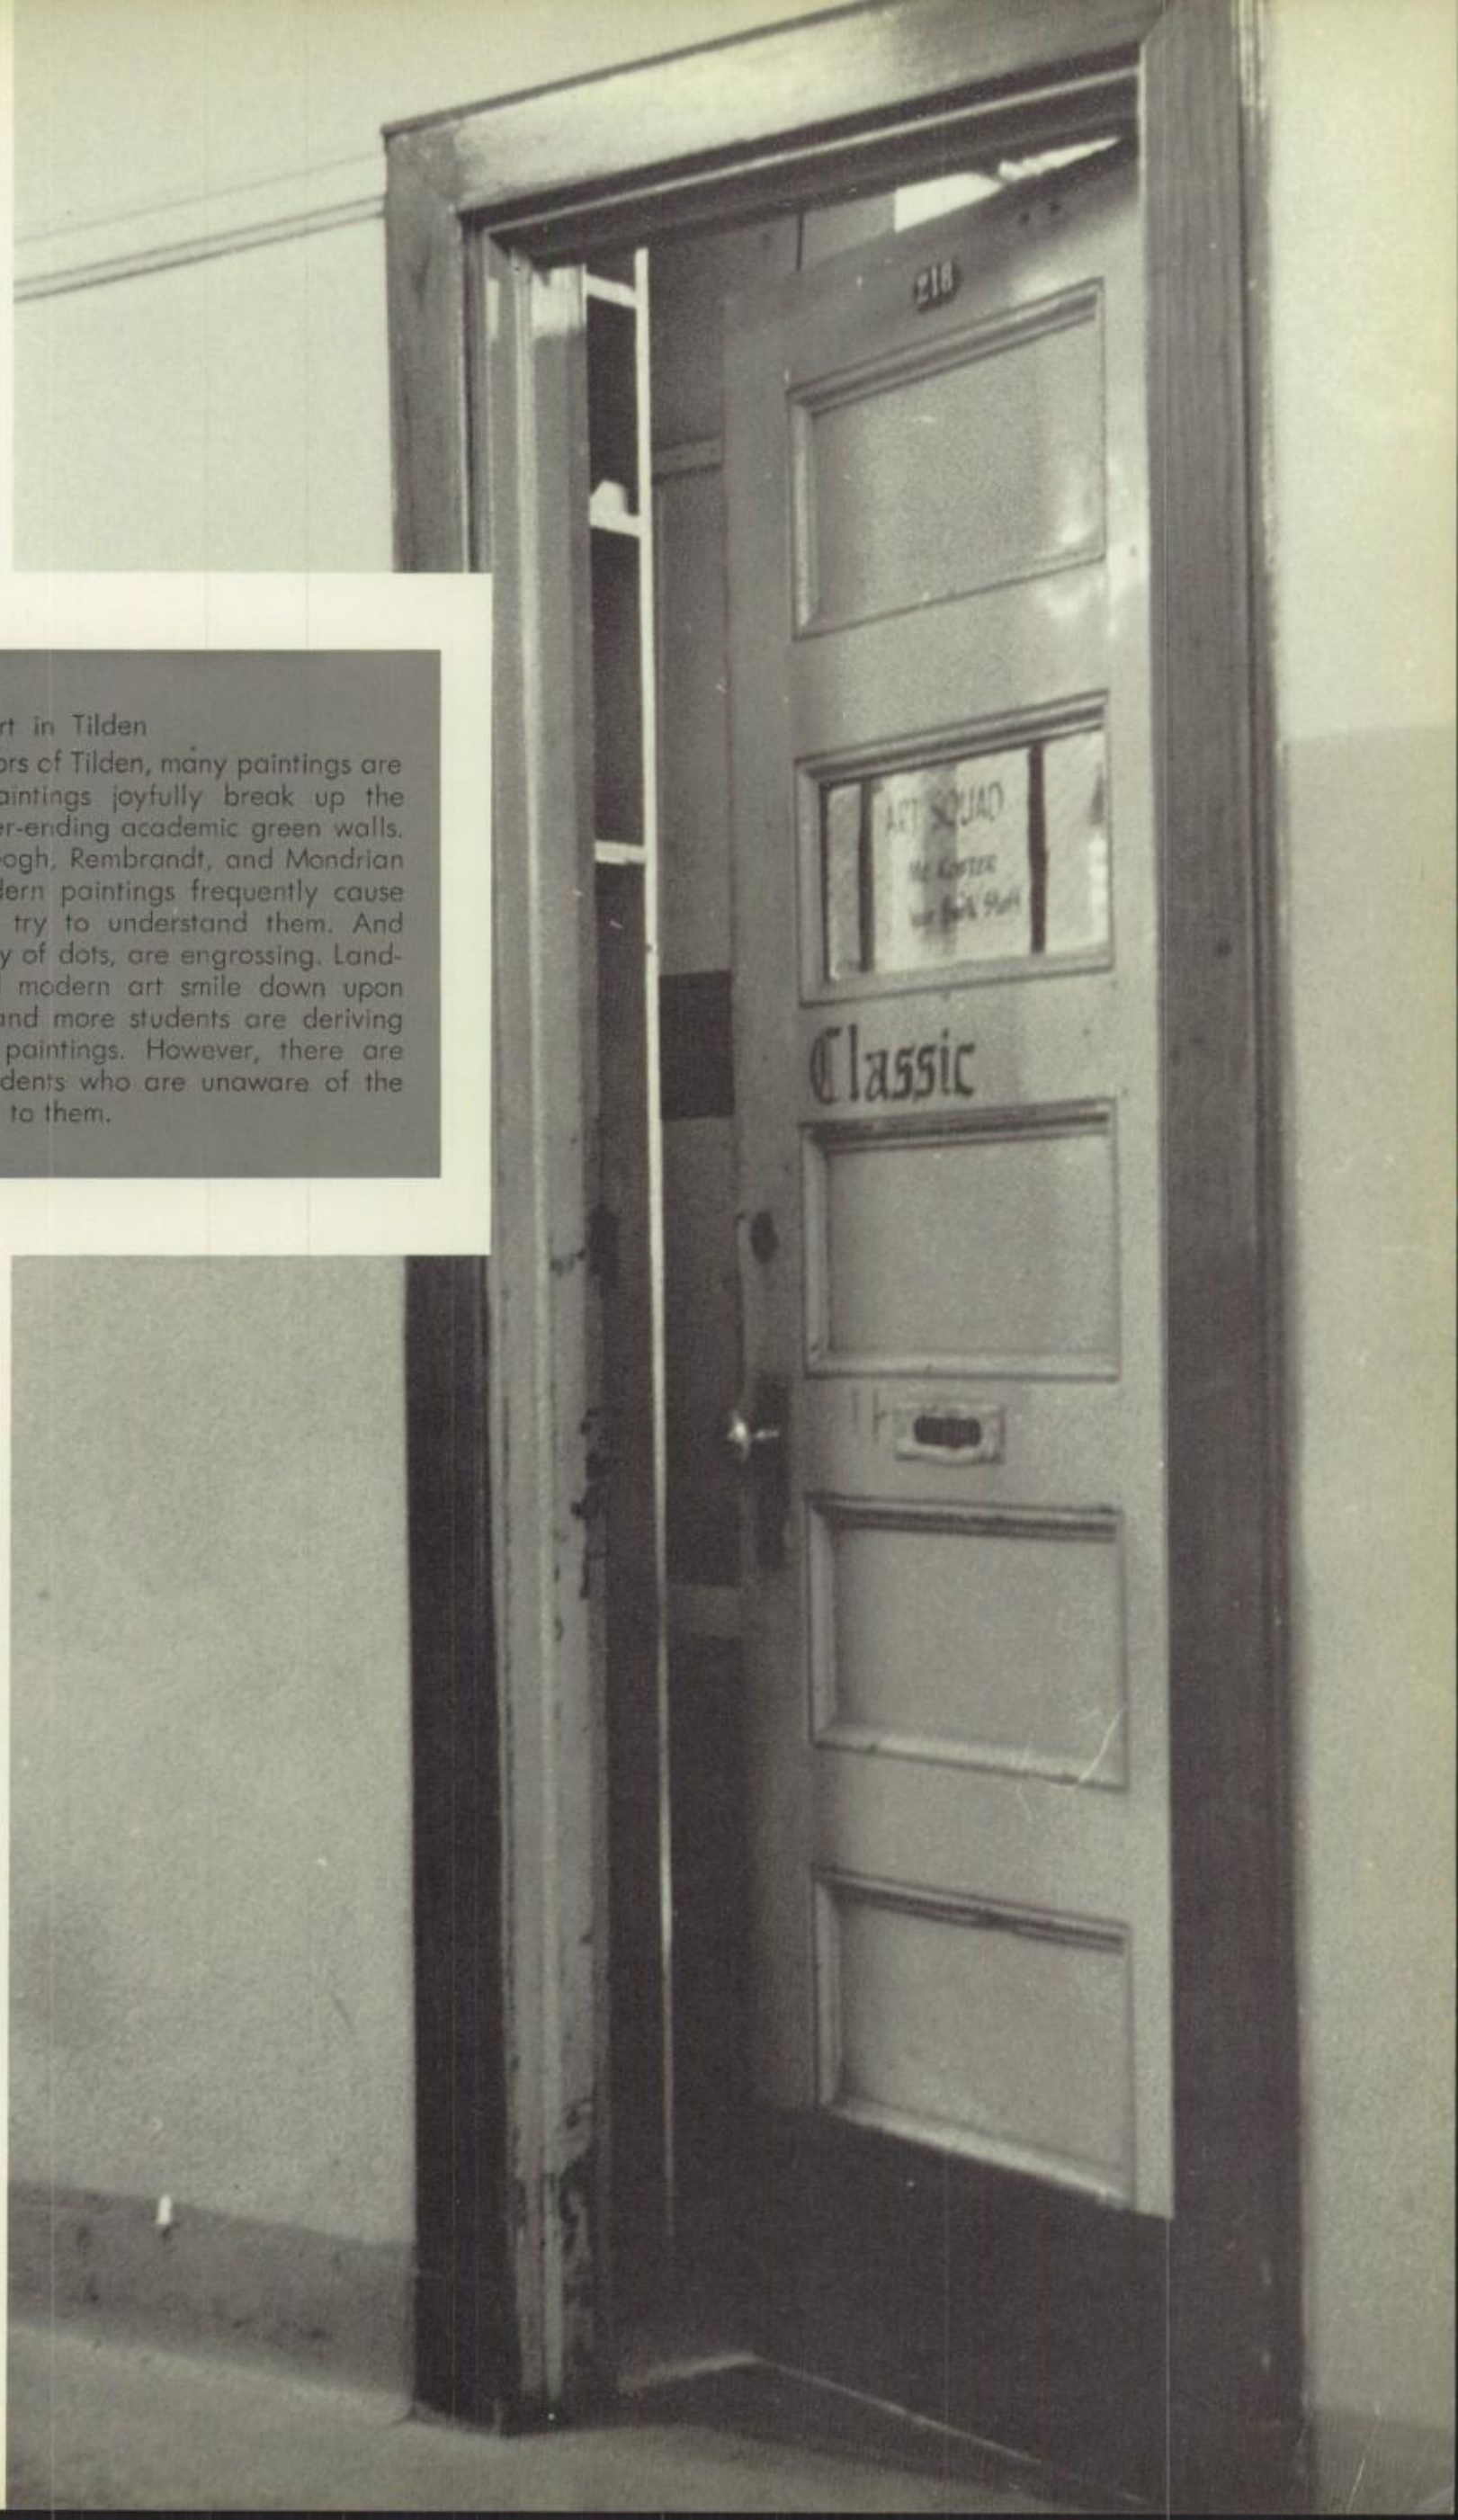

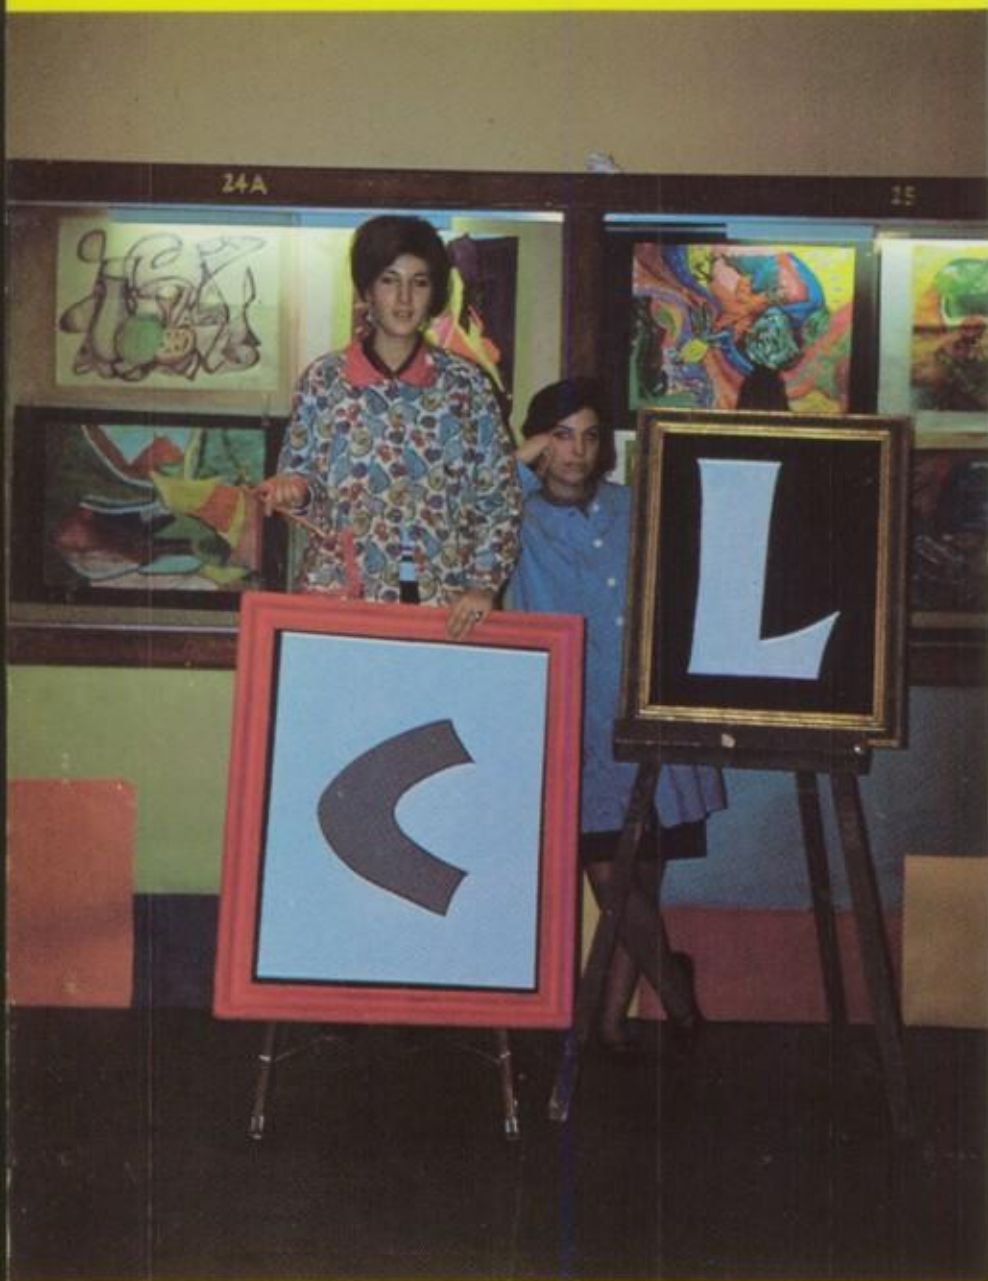

Art in Tilden

Throughout the corridors of Tilden, many paintings are on display. These paintings joyfully break up the monotony of the never-ending academic green walls. Artists such as Van Gogh, Rembrandt, and Mondrian are represented. Modern paintings frequently cause students to stop and try to understand them. And others, created entirely of dots, are engrossing. Landscapes, portraits, and modern art smile down upon the Tildenites. More and more students are deriving pleasure from these paintings. However, there are still far too many students who are unaware of the delights being offered to them.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

My dear Students:

It is very likely that you will look through this book many years from now, perhaps when you have school children of your own. It is interesting to conjecture what your reactions may be then. Will you look askance at your own picture? Think nostalgically as you see photographs of classmates you had forgotten? Smile as you remember the activities shown by the group photographs? Shake your head as you see the teachers—and read the principal's message?

This is a book of memories, recollections that will become more meaningful with time. Will you be "rich man, beggar man, etc." when you read this in the future? How much of your potential will you have realized by then? How much happiness will you have gained through the realization of your ambitions?

I have another thought. I know you have had a wealth of experiences at Tilden High School, in classrooms, clubs, teams, social events; I know you have been given information and training that can be tapped for professional and vocational competence. My one thought—and hope—however, is that the young graduate who reads this now will be an adult reading this later who has become a thoughtful, interested, participating, social-minded human being. I wish you success, of course; but even more, I hope that the adult who looks at this nostalgically years from now will have done something to make this troubled world a more humane, a more civilized, a more wonderful place in which to live.

ADMINISTRATION

See the pretty picture . . .

GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT

Although Tilden's halls rarely resound to actual cries of "Help!" our Guidance Department has responded to the many silent pleas of assistance by bemused students. We all know how important the Guidance Department is. The questions that arise: should I drop French?; how can I get into college?; is it possible for me to graduate in January? Miss Grand and the members of her department are wonderful guides through the maze.

The Guidance Department also helps students with their personal problems. "I can't seem to concentrate," one student complains. "Why is math a mystery to me?" Our Guidance counselors try to help us through sympathetic understanding and a sincere interest in the students. The Guidance Department is there to guide but it will not solve our problems. Students must do this for themselves. We at Tilden know that when problems arise, we have a kind and sympathetic ear in the Guidance Department.

Sheila Weiss

Rejected? But she didn't even apply there!

SPEECH DEPARTMENT

Considering the importance of communication in the world today, it is necessary that we emphasize speech, one of the major means of communication. At Tilden, compulsory and elective speech courses are offered to insure the maximum possibility for effective communication. Speech, too, is an expression of our personalities, and because of the elective offerings of the department, students at Tilden have been able to pursue special interests, and to develop untapped resources of their personalities.

Many students have taken advantage of courses in dramatics. Others have learned the mechanics of radio and television acting. The Drama Guild, founded by Mr. Dick, presents two plays annually—one in the fall and one in the spring. Certainly, our Speech Department must be commended for the scope and diversity of its activities.

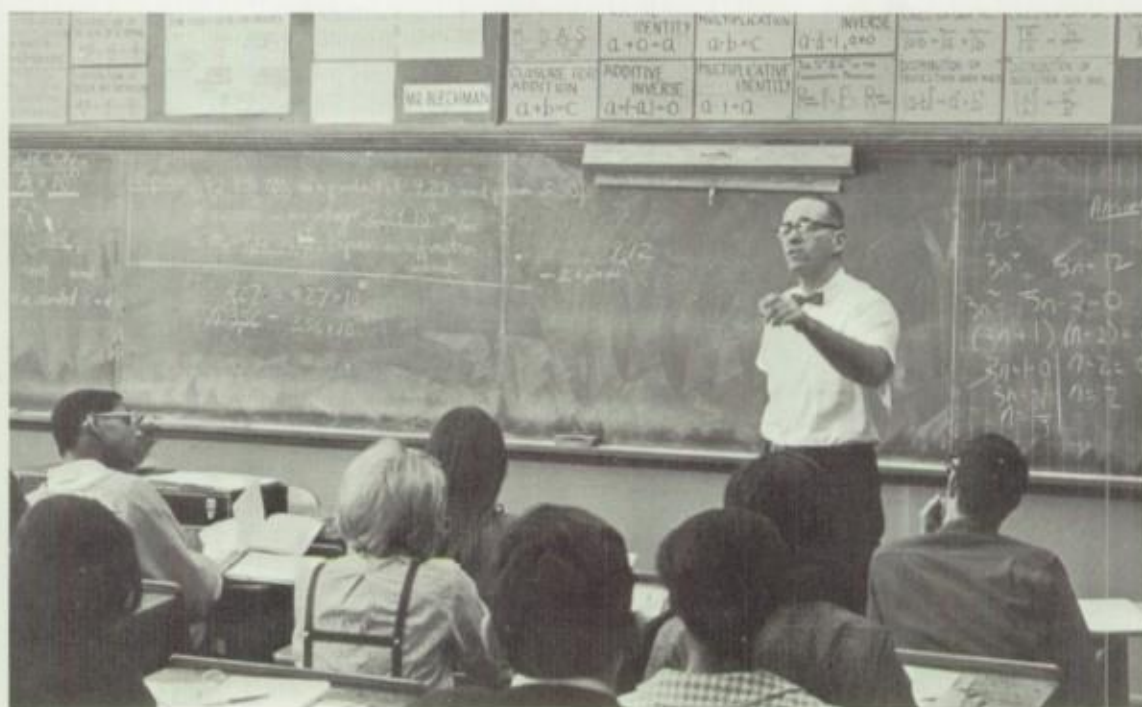

Ben Gitterman

LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

Parlez-vous francais? Habla ud espanol? The answer is yes, for many of us who took advantage of the special offerings of our Foreign Language Department. This Department, under the direction of Mr. Snow, has flourished. We had the opportunity to take Latin for two years, and French and Spanish even more intensively. The teachers were outstanding and most had first hand information on the country whose language they taught. Many teachers tried hard to instill feeling for the people and customs of a foreign country into us. Large, colorful pictures surrounded us, some teachers even taught us songs, much to our delight. But we owe the most to the Foreign Language Department because of the knowledge they have given us. We all feel more prepared to travel in different countries and speak like "real" natives.

Sheila Weiss

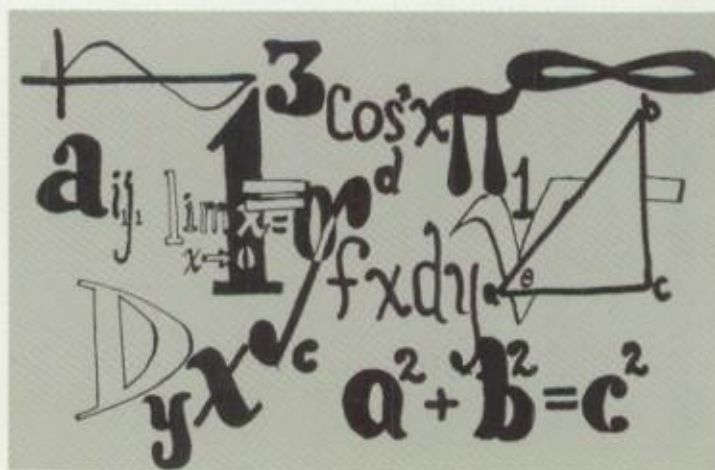

And I want a carbon of the carbon!

MATH DEPARTMENT

A background in mathematics prepares one for life in its many aspects. A good many of us will study math in college and will be using it throughout our lives. The math department fills a student's basic and essential needs through elementary and intermediate algebra, geometry and trigonometry courses. The more adventurous student can try his hand at solid geometry, advanced algebra, computer math, calculus, and matrix algebra. We also have a math team, under the direction of the chairman, Mr. Ayman. Tilden's Math Department more than fulfills its pupils' hunger for mathematical knowledge.

Ben Gitterman

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

English is the cornerstone of all our studies! It is the most fundamental and basic subject taken in high school. The future of our graduates is dependent on the degree to which they can successfully utilize this subject. Commerce, industry, and education all emphasize the importance of English.

Students at S.J. Tilden High School have always enjoyed the intellectual stimulation of exciting courses and teachers. Our English Department offers intensive courses for the advanced student. Creative writing, Mythology, World Literature, and Journalism are only a few of those available to our students.

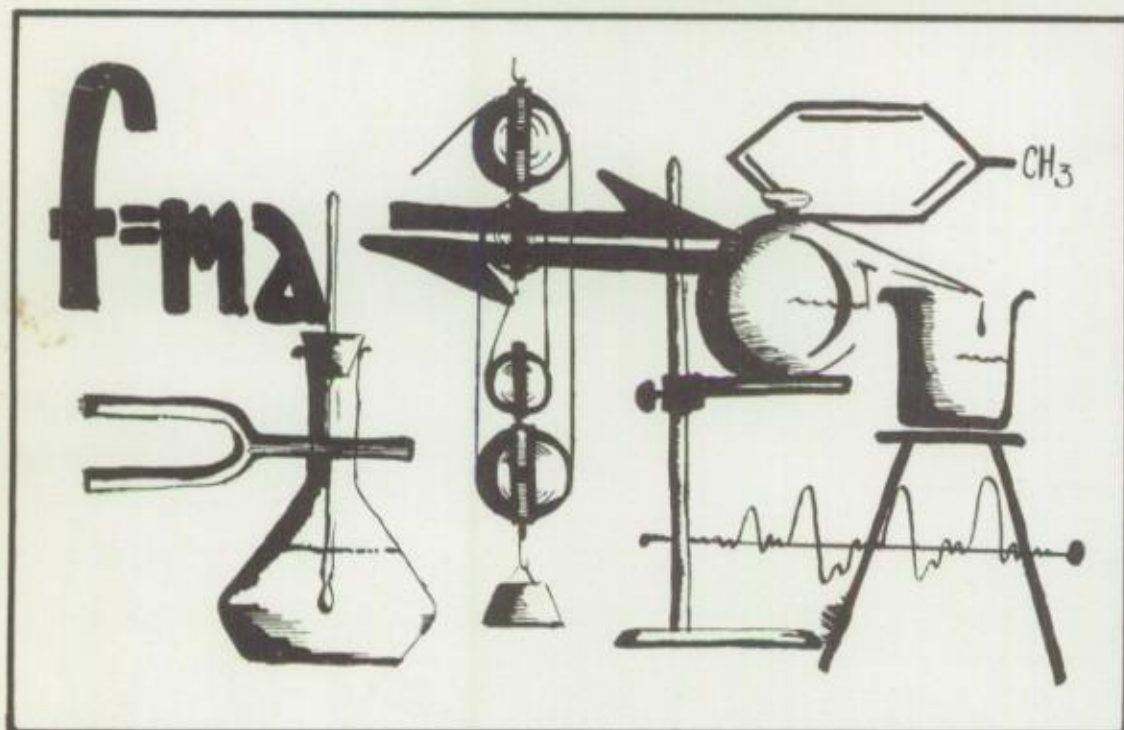

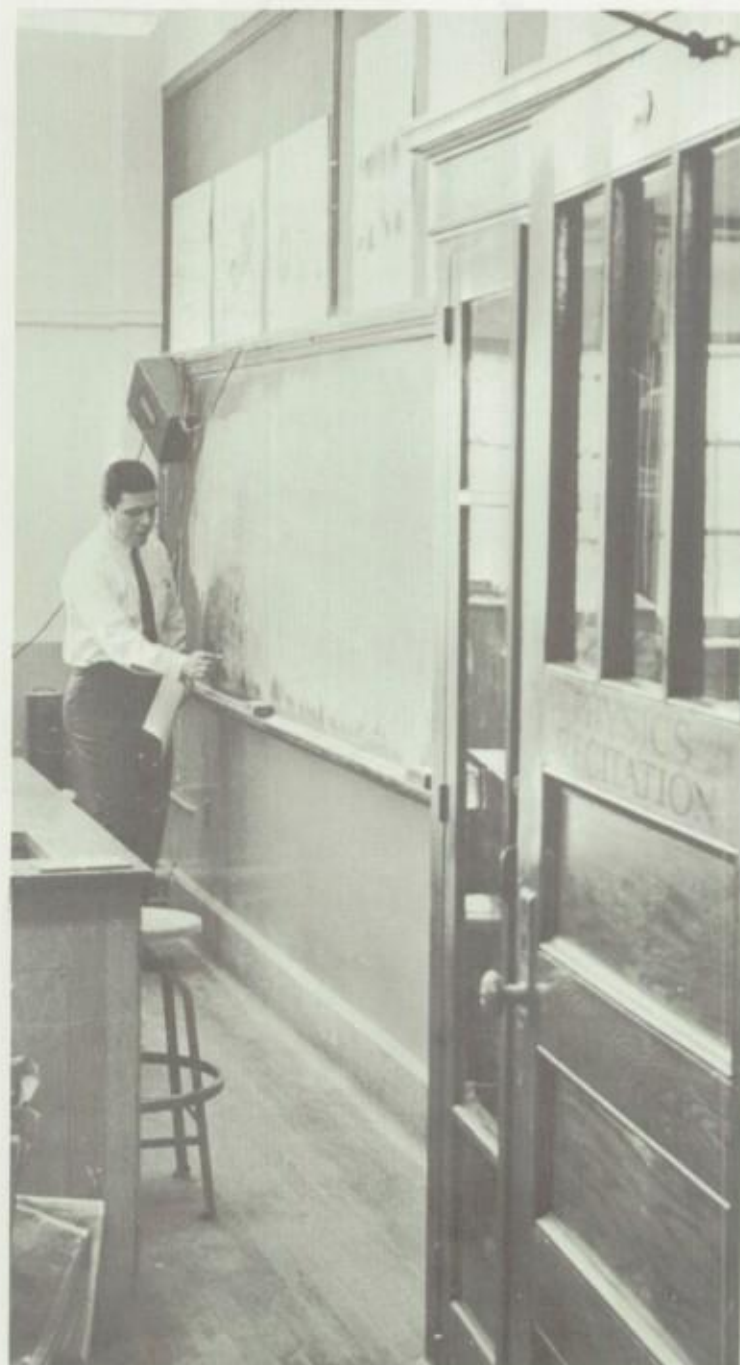

Warren Zimmerman

Then the ghost said: "O, horrible!
O, horrible! most horrible!"

PHYSICAL SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Physical Sciences is headed by Mr. Jacob Pasternack. This year, new safety features were added to the chemistry laboratory. For instance, it is now mandatory that all students wear safety glasses.

Mr. Richard Cicchillo began his second year as head of the Chemistry Lab Squad. He started the year by completely reorganizing the stock room. When the point was reached where one could actually find what he wanted, the stock room was painted. On the second floor, Mr. Tepper took charge of the Physics Lab Squad.

The highest level of education offered by the department is Advanced Placement Chemistry. It is taught by the chairman and includes a very advanced laboratory section. Physics, another fascinating subject, is taught each year by Mr. Ruderman and Mr. Bennett. We are lucky to have such a department in our school.

David Grabel

Well, most students wear safety glasses.

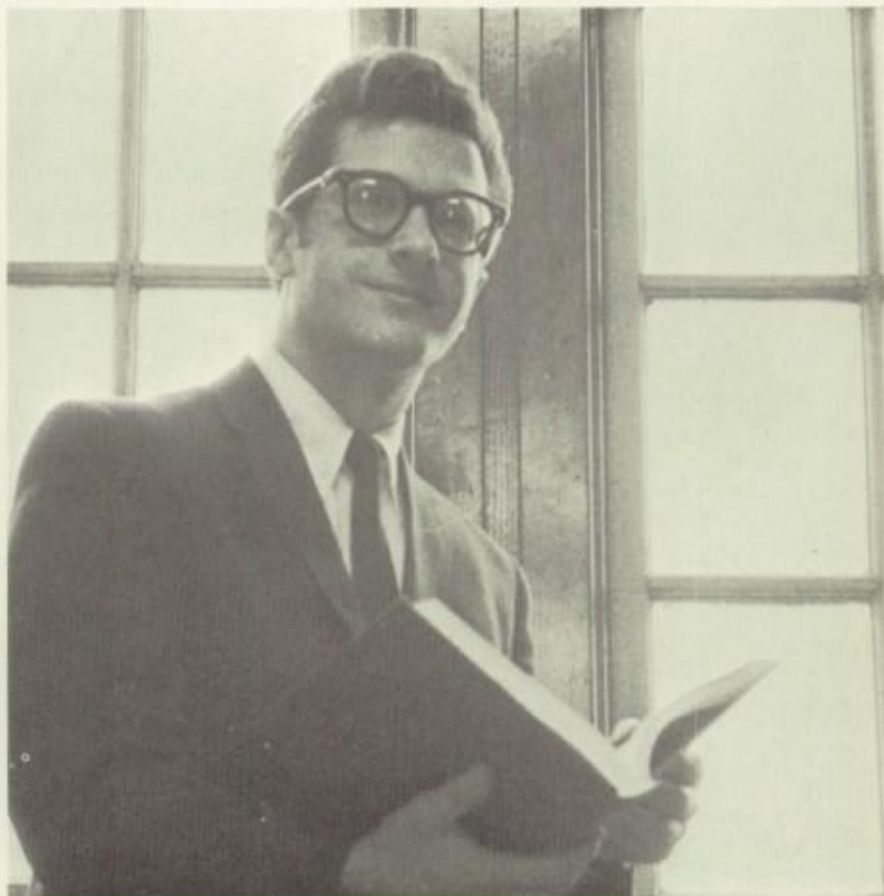

SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT

When Mr. Max Brodsky left our school to enjoy a leave of absence, Mr. Maurice Tandler took over as Acting Chairman of the Department of Social Studies.

This year, the department again offered three fascinating elective courses: Advanced Placement American History, taught by Mr. Tandler; Problems in American History, taught by Mr. Flanagan; and Ancient and Medieval History, taught by Mr. Goldfarb. The Tilden Forum continued to grow in membership and glow in exciting speakers under the leadership of faculty advisor Mr. Zornberg, President Abe Cofnas, Vice President David Gabel, and Secretary Shirley Dumbrow. The officers are very proud of their open opinion publication, "The Gadfly." Tilden's Debating Team, though barely two years old, has become extremely successful. The Social Studies Department is expanding its extra-curricular activities and is becoming even more important in the life of the student.

David Gabel

NATURAL SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

"Today we shall dissect a frog ... Man comes from apes ... boys and girls are different creatures." Familiar? These comments are examples of those heard in our biology classes. We owe a vote of thanks to the Natural Science Department for making this course so interesting and varied. For many of us biology was a required subject, but it was at the same time thought-provoking, fascinating, and enjoyable.

Sheila Weiss

Herbert ... where are you?

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT

Have the tantalizing cooking fumes reached your nostrils yet? Can you hear the humming of those new sewing machines?

Cooking, sewing, and discussing problems in family living make up a large part of the syllabus which is taught by Tilden's Home Economics Department. This department gives the student the chance to develop skills needed later in life; it focuses its attention on society's fundamental unit, the family.

A newly-initiated course, Boys' Foods, adds an enjoyable change to the department's schedule. The Home Economics Department, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Rita Lindquist, is doing a fine job.

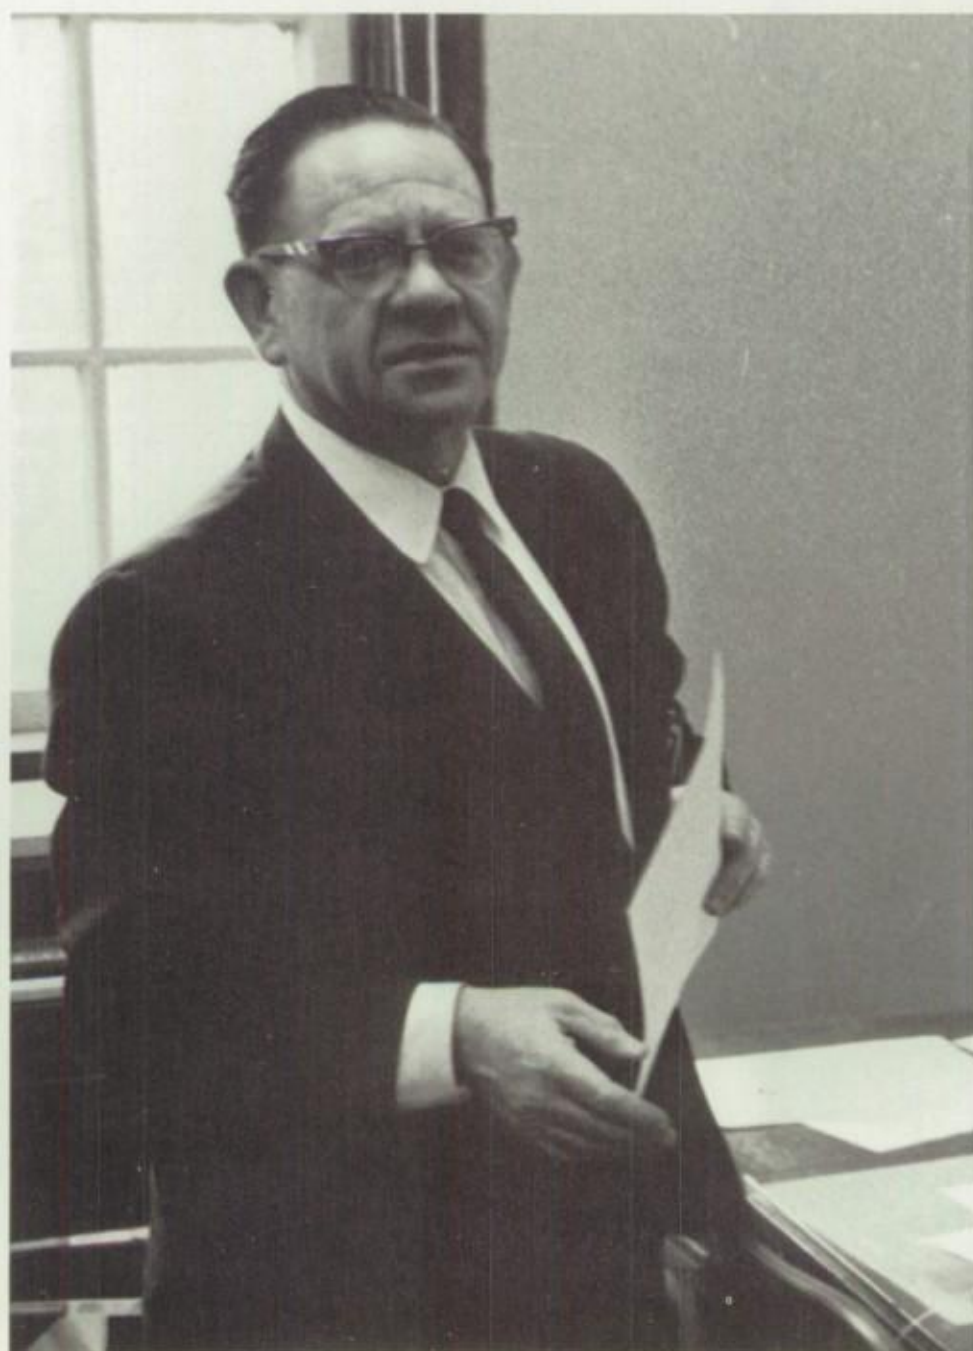

Sandy Kirschner

ACCOUNTING DEPARTMENT

Pupils who are looking forward to careers in business must appreciate the quality of the accounting courses which are given by our Accounting Department. Some of the additional courses made available by this department are: Merchandising, Business Practice, Business Arithmetic, Commercial Law, Record Keeping, and Office Machines. These courses are designed specifically for students who wish to become buyers, executives, bookkeepers, accountants, and owners of retail or wholesale businesses.

The chairman of Tilden's Accounting Department is Mr. Paul Cohen. He and the rest of the department can be proud of the fine work that they have all done in instructing the pupils in these important fields.

Warren Zimmerman

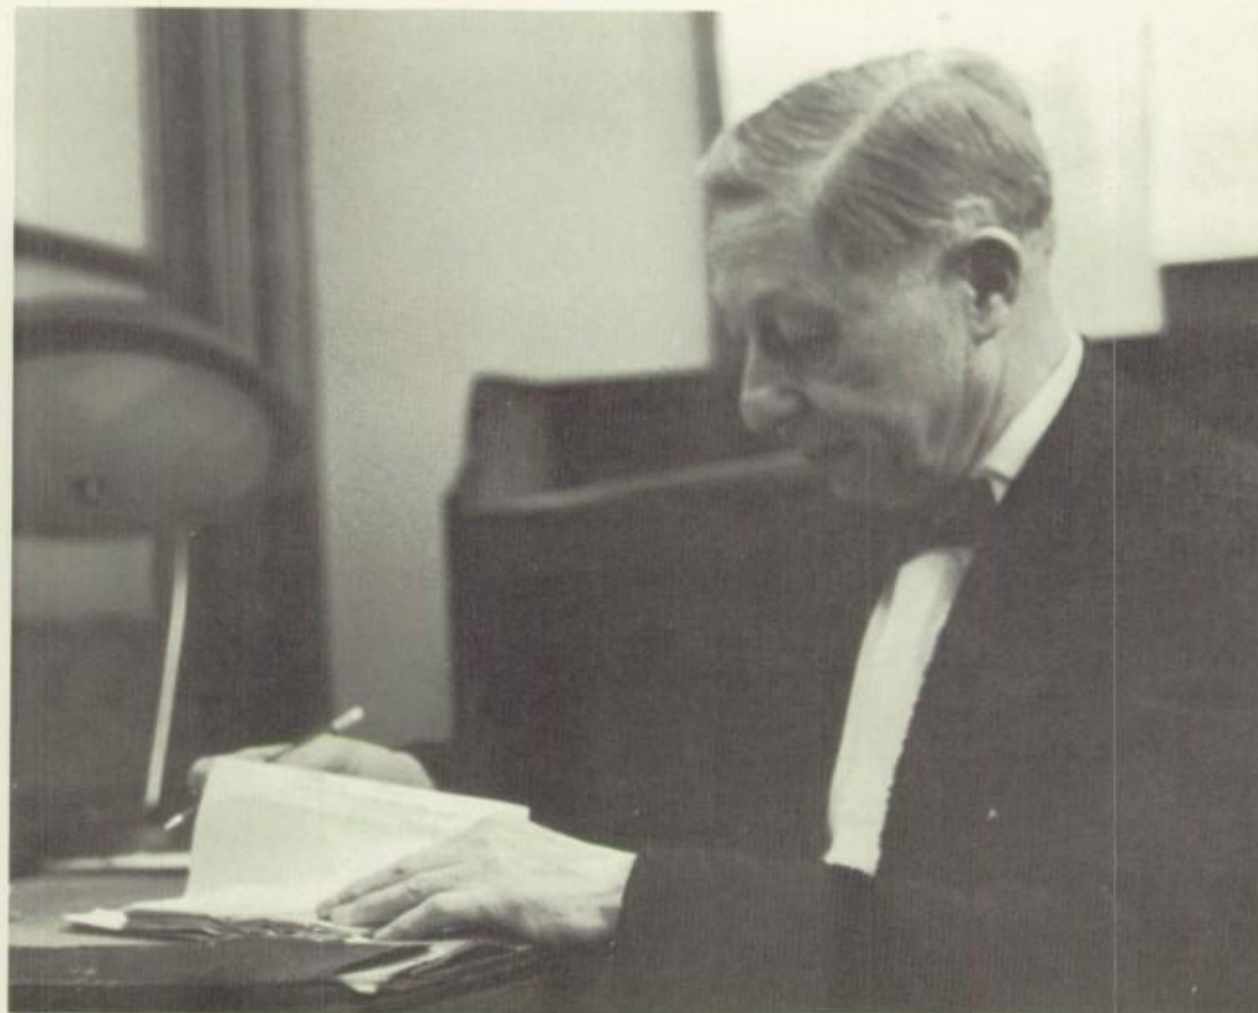

SECRETARIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT

The clicking of the keys and the writing of strange symbols—the Secretarial Studies wing has an atmosphere of efficiency.

The Department of Secretarial Studies, with Mr. Schorr as chairman, offers worthwhile courses to academic, general, and commercial students. These courses encompass all types of clerical work—typing, stenography, clerical and secretarial practice. These are talents which are necessary for all students. Those pupils who go on to college must know how to type and take notes during lectures. Others must be able to find good jobs.

The skills taught by the Secretarial Studies Department in Tilden are essential educational tools for all.

Sandy Kirschner

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

Work, study, read, memorize, translate, sing, play . . . Sing? Play? Yes! We, in Tilden, believe in going beyond our academic subjects. We like to supplement our studies with music, and a great number of Tildenites do just this, of their own free wills.

The Senior Band, Orchestra, and Dance Band serve as stimuli for our instrumentally-inclined students. The Mixed Chorus, Girls' Cantata, and Junior Chorus satisfy those with golden vocal chords. Under the supervision of the chairman, Mr. Jaffe, the music department excites the school, through rehearsals and performances.

Ben Gitterman

BOYS HEALTH EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

Whether the boys wanted to or not, they again, as every year, made use of the facilities of the Boys Health Education Department. This spring Mr. Mars, who is also tennis and football coach, assumed the responsibilities of the chairman of the department.

Those who hadn't as yet fulfilled their health instruction requirement were assigned to thrilling HIB class. Others still had to pass swimming. The Health Education Department continued their BCG program, giving special attention to a small group of students. Still, this advantage was reserved mainly for lower termers.

This branch of our school handles all varsity athletic teams. These are directed by Mr. Joel Hochheiser. Tilden's shining glory, our basketball team, coached by Mr. Jerry Gold, were crowned Co-City Champions.

David Grabel

A mass of green meets the eye first. Then you see legs, arms, and heads beating out the count of various exercises. The girls seem overworked and fatigued.

This action goes on every period, Monday through Friday, in the Girl's Gymnasium.

These are the gym classes for those girls whose exercise ends at volleyball, basketball, a little tennis and the "Chicken Fat" record. Tilden's Girl's Health Education Department offers much more than that. Excellence in athletics and a willingness to help teachers with gym classes can be shown through participation in Leader's Club. Girls who are more artistically inclined, can express themselves in the ever-growing Dance Gym. Our school teams are being cheered on to victories by Cheerleaders, Twirlers, and Boosters, all under the direction our Girl's Health Education Department.

GIRLS HEALTH EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

ART DEPARTMENT

Quietly they work. Stealthily they stalk through Tilden's halls, looking for work-space. No wall is left unheeded. How lucky we Tildenites are! Space is no sooner found, than it is filled with form and color. Our deepest thanks go to Tilden's Art Department under the expert direction of Mr. Eustis, for its ceaseless work, its unrelenting search. Rembrandt, Picasso, Monet no one is too good to line our walls. Even Mr. Robinson, one of our art teachers, gave us an exhibit of his fine artistic talents this past February. And in coming years, we shall have the honor of seeing the work of more of Tilden's talented teachers on display.

This past year, the Art Department was greatly enlarged. Mr. Eustis best describes the far-reaching effects of this program in the following words: "For the art-minded student, Tilden offers many opportunities for rewarding experiences. Now, more than any time in history, there are many artists working to make a better way of life for mankind. Students can add new exciting dimensions to their lives through the understanding the practice of art." Such courses as Sculpture, Ceramics, and Photograph were included in this new program. But even more important to some students, was the help of the Department in their quest for one of more than sixty scholarships offered. And we can't forget our school-sponsored poster contest.

But the hand of the Art Department reaches much farther. Classic and Caravan owe part of their beautiful art work to the art squad. Sing, and other school performances would be lost without Mrs. Darwin and her stage squad. All in all, it is easy to see what an integral part the Art Department plays in our daily school lives. We can honestly look back and say that it never failed us. Dear Art Department, the students of Tilden thank you.

TILDEN TOPICS

Break out the paper and race for a type-writer! It's time to put out another issue of Topics. Steadily, the staff streams in, and soon the office is buzzing with the scratch of pencils, the latest gossip, and frantic phone calls as organized confusion takes power.

Harbingers of potential news articles scurry in, unburden themselves, and shuffle out, lingering on the way to scan a curious quote or dubious piece of literature tacked on the bulletin board. The "board" is also a source of interest to the many reporters whose assignments are posted there. Printed emphatically in large letters are the pleas of the editors, "Get all stories signed! Don't forget carbons! ... please?"

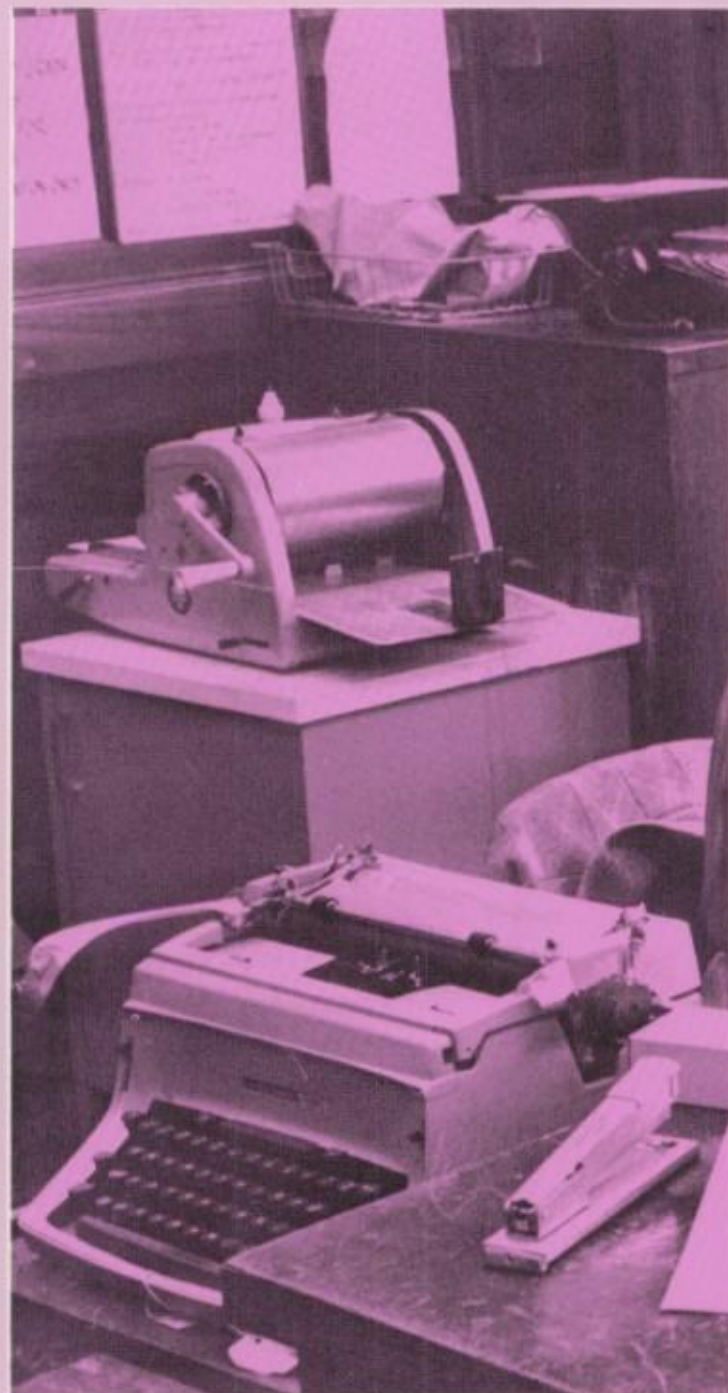

Alas, copy comes in without signatures, without carbons.

The Topics Office itself is one of the attractions of Tilden High. A certain magnetism draws members of Arista, the Drama Guild, the General Organization, and numerous other groups. Where else can such a conglomeration of people and interests be found? Where else is the vitality and zest of the school captured so poignantly?

This varied influence is reflected in the pages of Topics. The news page is devoted to accurate coverage of all school events; the editorial and feature pages provide a voice for the opinions of the student body and their leaders, as well as interesting feature articles dealing with a multitude of subjects. All athletic activities are well covered on the sports page.

Once these pages are planned and all written material is gathered, Topics leaves room 318. The hubbub subsides as the fate of the issue is entrusted to the printer. In a few days bedlam will resume as the next issue begins to take form.

CLASSIC

Years from now, when the mood strikes us, some of us will take our yearbooks down from the shelf, wipe off the dust, and leaf through the pages. Waves of nostalgia will sweep over us as we view scenes from our forgotten youth. We, the people who put this yearbook together, will feel even more sentimental, because this was once a part of our lives. While you will be remembering Arista installation, Sing, and Drama Guild productions, we will be remembering that and more. We will recall writing and re-writing, groping for the right word to fit a certain line, correcting that which we have labored over, and coordinating words and pictures for each event. We will recall starting out as novices with no conception of what to do, how to do it, or why, and being taught and retaught each phase under the patient guidance of Mr. Daniels and Mr. Koster. For most of us it was our first taste of responsibility, and we were all anxious to show what we could do. We wanted to give to you a book that will represent all that we, as a class, have done. So, in years to come, please do not hesitate to glance through Classic, because that is what it is for, to preserve the golden days of our youth.

Shelley Harnett

In studying foreign language at Tilden we, the students, take out enough time from Regents preparation to explore and enjoy the cultures associated with foreign languages. As an expression of the enjoyment we derive from this "exploration," we have created Polyglot, our language magazine. Tildenites take pride in this magazine because it demonstrates the language proficiency of our students. Through the efforts of Mr. Snow, the student editors, and the student contributors, Polyglot has become a successful part of Tilden.

DRAMA GUILD

See the Drama Guild
 Watch it work
 Work, Drama Guild, work
 —Why?
 Silly, to bring theater into the lives of Tilden's students
 —But how?
 Through the united efforts of all concerned
 See—
 The executives energize the chairmen
 Who in turn operate their committees
 The members of which are the core of the Guild
 The entire operation is overseen by the tireless faculty advisors
 And finally encouraged by principal, faculty, and most important—The Tildenite
 See the mechanism work
 Watch it produce
 Produce, mechanism, produce
 —Produce what?
 The well-rounded theatre enthusiast
 Through work on numerous activities
 —Such as?
 The fall play—this year "The Stolen Prince"
 The Tilden audience, through theatrical magic, was transported to ancient China—Ah, so!
 And once there, was awed for the first time in Tilden's history
 By Kabuki style theatre
 —Gasp, gasp, gasp!
 —Is that all?
 Oh my, no!
 Individual performances from bi-monthly TDG meetings
 Were utilized in a February auditorium program of black-outs and comedy sketches
 —Laugh, kids, laugh!
 —'Guess that's all?
 Hold on—then there was the T.G.O. Carnival
 Brightened by an original Guild comedy revue
 —Chuckle, chuckle, chuckle
 But you ain't seen nothing yet
 Mid-May—the flowers bloomed
 And so did Tilden—with cultural enlightenment
 The "Mouse" roared, culminating four months of: Blood, sweat, and tears
 The curtain rose on the little duchy of Grand Fenwick Hail, Gloriana, hail!
 And New York was invaded by a band of armored Fenwickians
 Led by that noble Tully Bascomb
 Onward, men, onward!
 —Was it all worth it?
 Ask any Guild member!

The high standards of Arista are upheld and exemplified by its 190 members, for they are the epitome of good scholarship, loyal service to the school, and excellence in character. This year has been a very successful one for our society again, and its members have been able to participate in a variety of activities. There has been an addition to the duties of Aristonians this year. Besides helping teachers during Open-School days, they now offer their services during the last few days of the term in order to expedite the teachers' "red tape."

As part of the program to further intra-Arista relations in Brooklyn, basketball games are planned with several schools. Our able team played against Canarsie's Arista early in the fall term. The expected girls volleyball game did not materialize, but there's always next year! In keeping with our tradition, the Arista-Longfellow basketball game was again held in Tilden's boys' gym.

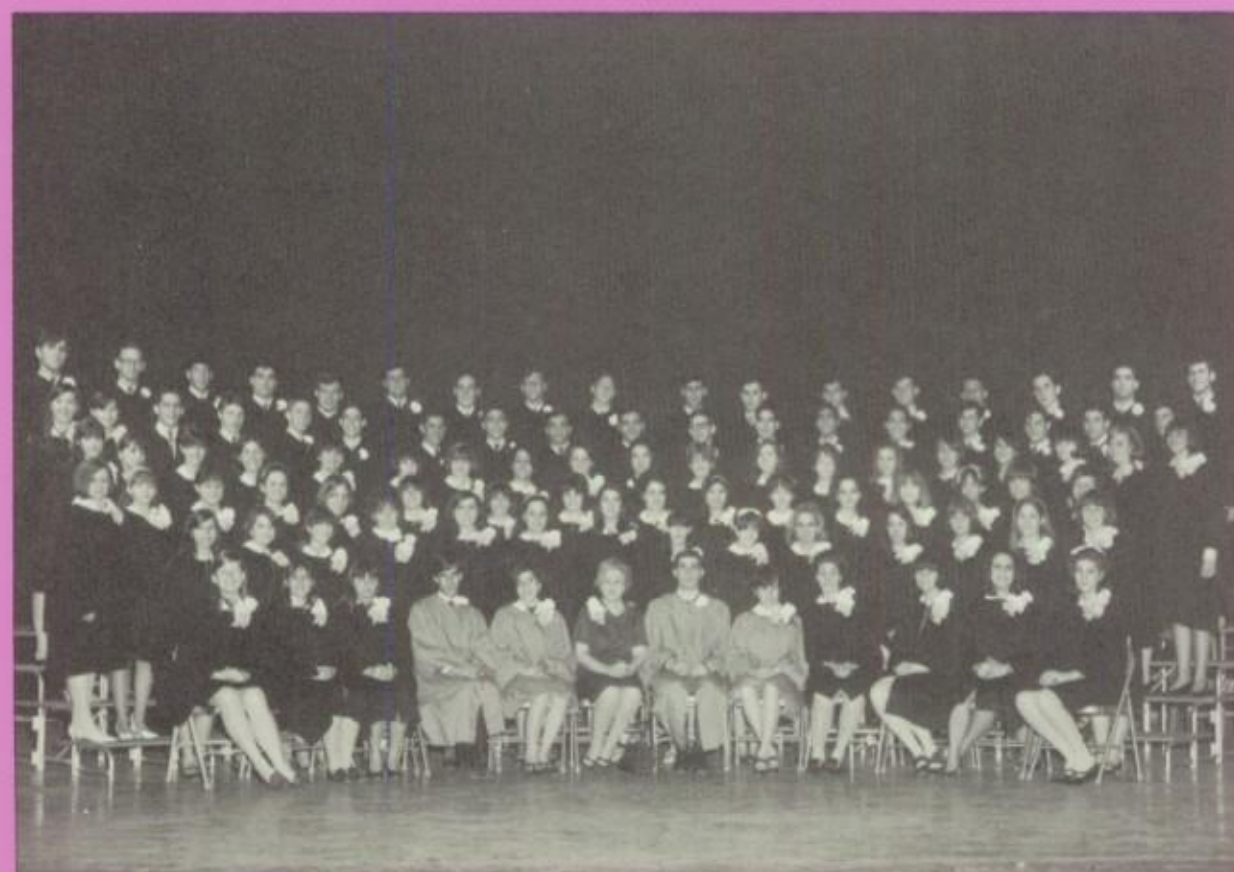

In the pursuit of musical talent, one of Arista's biggest events of its '66-'67 period was the Hootenanny held in the school. Several members performed individually and in groups, and the audience actively participated. In addition, the skating ability of our Aristonians was exhibited during the Christmas Skating Party in Prospect Park. For the theater goers, we had parties to see Hawaii, Is Paris Burning?, and A Man For All Seasons. Moreover, in making sure that no one was left out, and that all had an opportunity to partake in Arista functions, the Aristonian again provided good practice for future journalists.

Since superior scholarship is one of the fundamental qualifications for all Aristonians, we are proud to acknowledge the fact that many of our members have received scholarships and awards. We wish all of our members the best of luck!

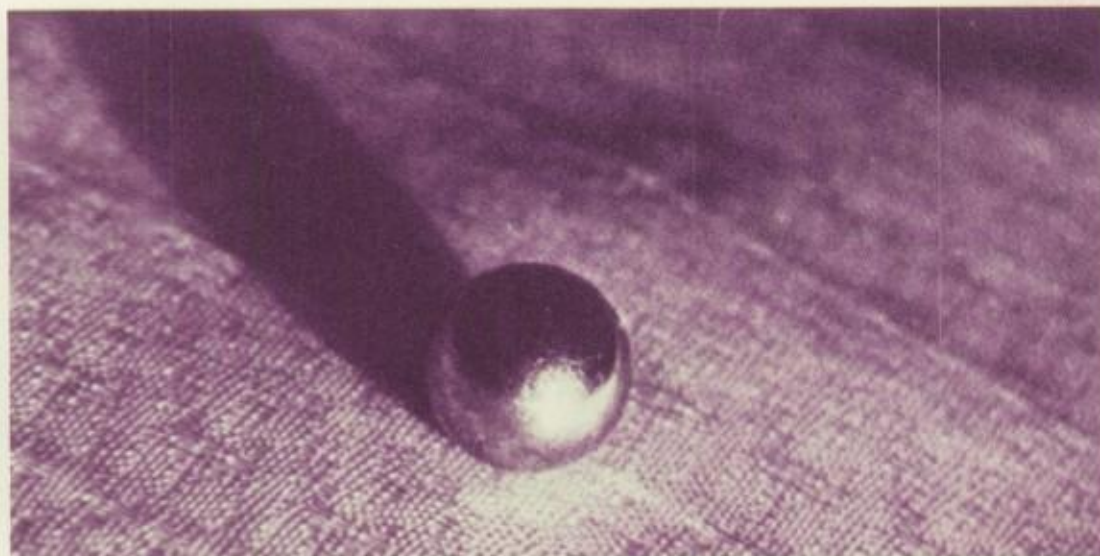

—And thank you Mrs. Bernstein!

ARISTA

CARAVAN

In a world obsessed by computerized intelligence and assemblyline conformity, Caravan, Tilden High School's literary art magazine, stands as an outpost of creativity. Judging from the proficiency of contributing students over an eleven year span of time, that creativity is in little danger of being depleted in the future.

Caravan serves a two-fold purpose. By dedicating itself to publishing the best prose, poetry, and art work, it seeks to solicit contributions from as many aspiring authors and artists as possible, giving them a vital forum, a testing ground, as it were, for their talents. By setting the highest standards, Caravan gives Tilden's students a magazine it can enjoy and be proud of.

Yet Caravan does not epitomize perfection; indeed, if it did, it would lose its vibrancy and settle into the stagnation of self-satisfaction. We at Caravan are rarely satisfied. We welcome criticism eagerly and like to think we profit by it.

Perhaps the greatest controversy centering around Caravan in the past few years has been a "battle" between those who favor a more esoteric form of expression and those who do not. Caravan has been accused of publishing not what is best, but what is most difficult to understand. This is not really true. We are concerned primarily with printing a magazine that students will appreciate. Today many of our steady contributors, most of whom have been writing for years, seem to have progressed to a point where they tend to experiment with form and language. This is only natural and we are glad to see it. Written expression mirrors the tempo of the times, and the beat today is fast and unconventional.

A question we have often been asked concerns the title of our magazine—why Caravan? Perhaps this name is appropriate because across deserts of superficiality it carries a precious cargo of human individuality. Grateful, as we certainly are, for eleven years under the guidance and supervision of Mr. Kerner, and glad to be working with Mr. Robinson, newly-appointed art advisor, Caravan looks forward to bringing to Tilden's students the urgent, exciting and often beautiful expression of that individuality.

BLUE DEVILS

The football campaign of 1966 was a memorable one for the players, students, and fans of Tilden. The fans watched as a senior quarterback with no varsity experience, Terry Strassberg, took command of the team, and led it through one of the finest campaigns in Blue Devil history. It was a season which saw the experienced, well-liked assistant coach, Murray Adler, leave after ten years, and a young, spirited coach, Marv Glaubach, step into his boots. It was a season which saw the return of the Jefferson cleats to the Tilden grid for the first time in three years. It was the year Tilden's third-year star halfback, Joe Puleo, got named to the Daily News Brooklyn-Queens All-Star team.

Tilden opened the season against its old rival, Jefferson. Points were lacking—but spirit wasn't—as Tilden lost for the first and only time this season. During the second game, Tilden staged a tremendous ending in the final three minutes of play. Following that game, Tilden's strong defense was to lead the Blue Devils through the season. For the five remaining games, the defense yielded only one touchdown per game.

In one of the most startling upsets in recent years, Tilden shattered the perfect record of Brooklyn Tech, with a 12-6 victory. But the turning point of the season occurred when the undefeated Boys High team came to Tilden. It looked sad for us until the final period. Then, quarterback Howard Weiss came in and, with a five-yard touchdown pass to Dave Bernstein, tied the score.

At the close of the season, first place was awarded to Boys High. However, the Blue Devils played the kind of ball to be proud of. The record book will read "Tilden, second place 5-1-1," but for the Blue Devils it was definitely a triumphant year.

Gary Godfrey

GOLDMEN

The 1966-67 season will be remembered as the one in which Tilden became a city basketball power once again. After years of rebuilding, the Goldmen finally found a home—first place. Last season the Goldmen were 1-13 in league play and 3-14 overall. Therefore, in spite of the fact that Tilden was placed in an easier league, there was little optimism about this season.

But after winning two games and losing one in pre-season play, Tilden really began to move. League opponents Automotive, Eastern District, Midwood, Grady, and Whitney were crushed. The end of the regular season found the Goldmen sporting a brilliant 10-0 record in league play and 14-2 overall, including an upset of powerful Brooklyn Tech.

The hub of the Tilden attack is junior Don Blackman. A top prospect for All-City honors, Don averaged 23 points a game in addition to leading the team in rebounds. Second is junior Ferdinand Santiago, who is noted for his amazing long-range jump shot. Forward Stan Kinard is the only senior on the starting team; he has a good scoring average and is excellent on defense. Stan's career high was a 21-point performance against Eastern District.

Rounding out the team are Ron Jones, a junior guard who is among the best in the city on defense, and Kenny Gales, a tough sophomore forward. The graduation of Bob Epstein in January left the Goldmen with only three seniors. Harry Wasserstein, a dribbling wizard with one of the best jump shots around, often came off the bench to spark the team. Few will forget the time he scored the eight quick points which caused the defeat of Midwood.

Senior Stu Weisberg missed a good part of the season because of a wrist injury. However, using the underhand drive that he is known for, he made a strong comeback. The rest of the squad includes juniors Hampton Smythe, Jerome Wilson, Willie Hawes, Dave Riddicks, and Richie Cohen.

Coach Jerry Gold cannot be praised highly enough. Two years ago, our team was overwhelmingly defeated; but Coach Gold would not quit. Instead of leaving as a loser, he had the determination and drive to come back and restore the team as a city basketball power. This season, Mr. Gold has proved that he is a brilliant strategist and a fine coach.

Stuart Weisberg

MERMEN

Tilden's 1966 version of the Mermen finished their season December 3 with an even 4—4 ledger. Nevertheless, Mr. Sheldon Spielberg, team coach and number one cheerleader, expressed satisfaction over the fine competitive spirit and team effort of the Mermen.

Things started off negatively as the Mermen dropped four of their first five decisions. A 60—35 Jefferson victory October 4 inaugurated the 1966 campaign. Tilden, however, was gratified by the excellent swimming of the squad in general.

The Mermen also bowed to Boys High, 51—43. Boys clinched the victory in the final minutes, after the Mermen had been leading 43—41. Once again, strong swimming kept Tilden in the running throughout the meet. Tilden broke the ice by defeating Wingate 53—35 October 21, with Captain Dennis Glass leading the way. The following week, the Mermen slumped, falling to City Champion Tech 79—16. Tech's powerful team, functioning like a highly-efficient machine, proved too much for Tilden. On November 1, Canarsie overpowered the Mermen 59—36. Although the Mermen swam well, they were outclassed by the improved Canarsie squad.

Tilden ended the season in a flourish by winning its final three meets. Hamilton succumbed 65—27, while Eastern District was routed 76—18. In each case, the Mermen dominated the meet. Bushwick forfeited to Tilden's Mermen as a result of a protest by Tilden after the former used a member of its faculty to officiate the contest.

Despite its record, the Mermen proved themselves to be a potentially strong team. After losing four of their first five, the Mermen reeled off three straight victories and seemed to be solidified. The squad, left with only three veterans from 1965, was laden with youthful novices, who were eager and willing to be successful. Very often the boys practiced after school hours until 6:30 in the evening. Driven hard, they were drilled Spartan-style, until they were exhausted. Splendid swimming by Dennis Glass, Ken Shavelson, and Josh Herzlinger, enabled the Mermen to achieve what they did. The development of younger swimmers will lead to even greater success in the future.

DIAMONDMEN

1966 was the year of new records for Tilden baseball. The Diamondmen, after a slow start, backed into a playoff game for the division championship and came out on top. Southpaw Steve Smith became the first pitcher in Tilden history to hurl two consecutive no-hitters.

In exhibition games the Diamondmen finished impressively with a 10-3 record. However, Tilden dropped the league opener to Midwood, 2-0. Andy Moser pitched a one-hitter as the Diamondmen defeated Madison 4-1. But tough Erasmus pitching handed Tilden its second loss as Erasmus won 2-0 on a no-hitter.

The slate was evened as Tilden edged Roosevelt 2-1. But the Diamondmen followed this up with another heartbreaking loss to Midwood to set the league record at 2-3. At this point, the division championship seemed very far off.

Coming out of their slump, the Diamondmen finished the season with five straight victories. First to fall was Erasmus, 5-2. Steve Smith no-hit Madison 6-0, May 12, with the aid of catcher Ike Cohn's big homer. On May 16, Smith pitched his second consecutive no-hitter as the Diamondmen nipped Roosevelt 1-0. A subsequent 2-1 victory over Sheepshead put Tilden back into contention for the division title. With a 6-3 record and one game to play, the Diamondmen were one game behind league-leading Midwood. However, Midwood lost its final game to Erasmus as Tilden romped over Sheepshead 13-5. This put Tilden and Midwood in a deadlock for first place.

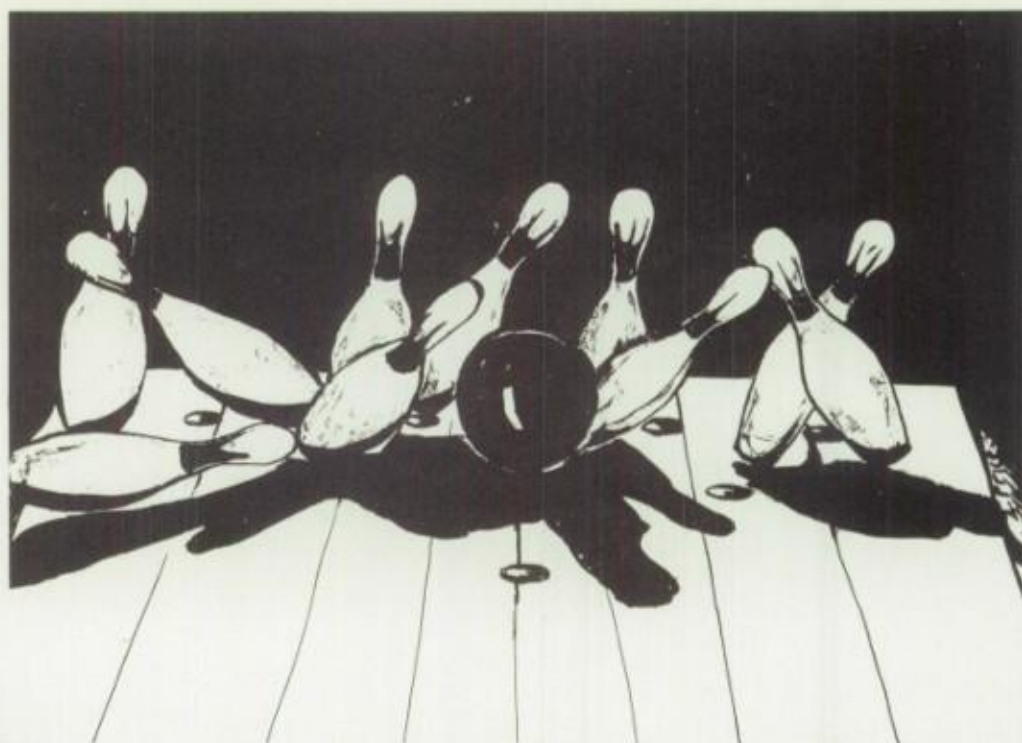

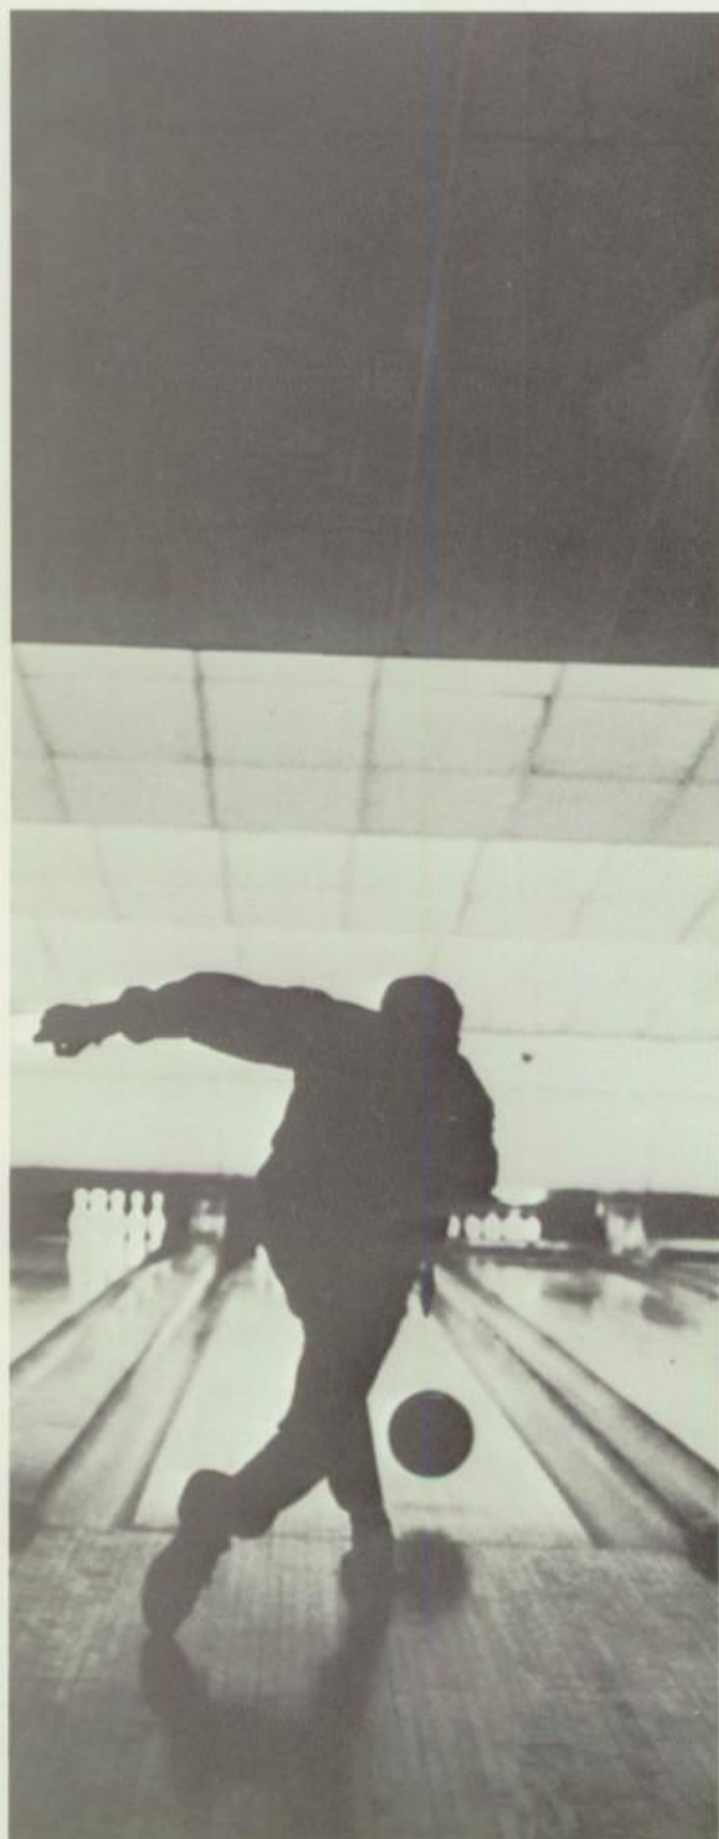

In an exciting playoff game, Tilden, twice the victim to Midwood during the regular season, defeated the Hornets 4-2 to take the Brooklyn Division I championship. Andy Moser, the winning pitcher, blasted a three-run homer.

Lafayette edged Tilden 4-3 in extra innings in the Brooklyn semi-finals to eliminate the team. However, for coach Nick Farkouh and the Diamondmen, it was a very successful and a memorable season.

KEGLERS

Despite being defeated in their sudden-death playoff match, the Keglers and Coach Nick Farkouh were very satisfied with their team and individual performances. The team rebounded from last season's disappointing finish, due to the forfeiting of several games as a result of the inability of one player, to a second place finish in their division.

Leading Tilden to its fine season was Barry Ruderman, who compiled an average of 185. It was his reliability and consistency that provided the squad with the leadership it had lacked in previous years. Co-Captains Barry Cohen and Ray Panzer, Gary Dalto, Ken Grossman and numerous other members of the team gave balance and depth which powered Tilden to a near division title. In the words of Coach Farkouh, it was this fact that "carrying a large squad such as Tilden's gives you depth which enables to manipulate your bowlers throughout a match. It also lets your promising young bowlers develop and progress for the future."

From the start of the season the Keglers found themselves keeping pace with an explosive Sheepshead Bay team. Realizing that they could not afford another loss in order to remain in contention for the division title, the Keglers stayed confident and tumbled Sheepshead by six pins in their "do or die" match. However, with both teams dominating the P.S.A.L. competition, they finished in a first place deadlock, boasting 8-2 records.

Faced with a sudden-death playoff with Sheepshead Bay, Tilden went down to defeat. It was a lopsided game which found the Keglers behind from the beginning, dropping them to a second place finish. However, it was a victorious year for the Keglers which left everyone satisfied and confident for future years.

RACQUETMEN

Tennis through the years hasn't been considered a major sport, as has football or basketball. Because of this, not many boys try out for the team, and often excellent talent is lost. However, Bernard Mars, coach of the Tilden football and tennis teams is trying to "tackle" this problem. And, as more and more people try out, the Racquetmen will keep improving.

Although the team had a losing season in 1966, it played against tough "A" league competition. Their first two endeavors found them on the short end as Sheepshead Bay defeated the Devils 4-1 and Erasmus pulled one out 5-0. Against Sheepshead, the Racquetmen managed a doubles victory as Jeff Arlynn and Eric Russell won that one for us. Erasmus, number two in the division, white-washed Tilden in the second match-up of the season by a 5-0 score.

Despite the results of the first two matches, there were several bright spots on the tennis scene. The consistency of Howie Bixenholtz and Phil Burbank, and the continuing improvement of Harris Fishman, Lee Turchin, Eric Russell and Steve Butler has lifted the team's morale. In addition, Jeff Arlynn and Dave Shakin, two newcomers, have been valuable performers. Thus, the team became stronger as the season progressed. We at Tilden are proud of the team and its valiant effort.

Our team, although suffering a losing season, gained experience and won the respect of all who opposed them.

Warren Zimmerman

HOCHHARRIERS

The 1966-67 Tilden Track Team promises to be one of the finest in years as it approaches its outdoor season. Coach Hochheiser is optimistic about its chances for capturing the division championship. He has a strong varsity plus an inspiring J.V.

The Hochharriers were edged by Madison for the 1966 outdoor division championship. Although they did not dominate any one particular event, their all-around consistency was excellent. Many boys broke novice and became eligible for open competition. The 1966 cross-country season, led by captains Phil Moinester and Tom Zarbo, saw the emergence of Frank Mandaro as a star. Frank was only seconds short of the all time Tilden cross country record. As this article goes to press, the indoor season is half-way through, with Howie Weissman and Gerry Glasser as indoor captains. It is very difficult to win indoor medals, but one relay team already has and others have had near misses.

Returning varsity sprinters are seniors Howie Weissman, Bob Perlson, Steve Gerstein, juniors Harold McKinney, Ferdinand Hague, Len Stern, Derek Griffith, Bill Tabb, and sophomores Steve Dawson, Ron Sigler, Curtis Newkirk, and Len Friedlander. They are ably backed up by newcomers Lloyd Berlin, Bob Springer, Winston Anderson, and Jon Jackson. Running distance events will be seniors Tom Zarbo, Gerry Glasser, Phil Moinester, juniors Frank Mandaro, Phil Wiley, Emory Davis, and sophomore Craig Lackow. Bruce Prokosch will compete in jumping events while Bruce Speigel will throw the shot put.

Steven Gerstein

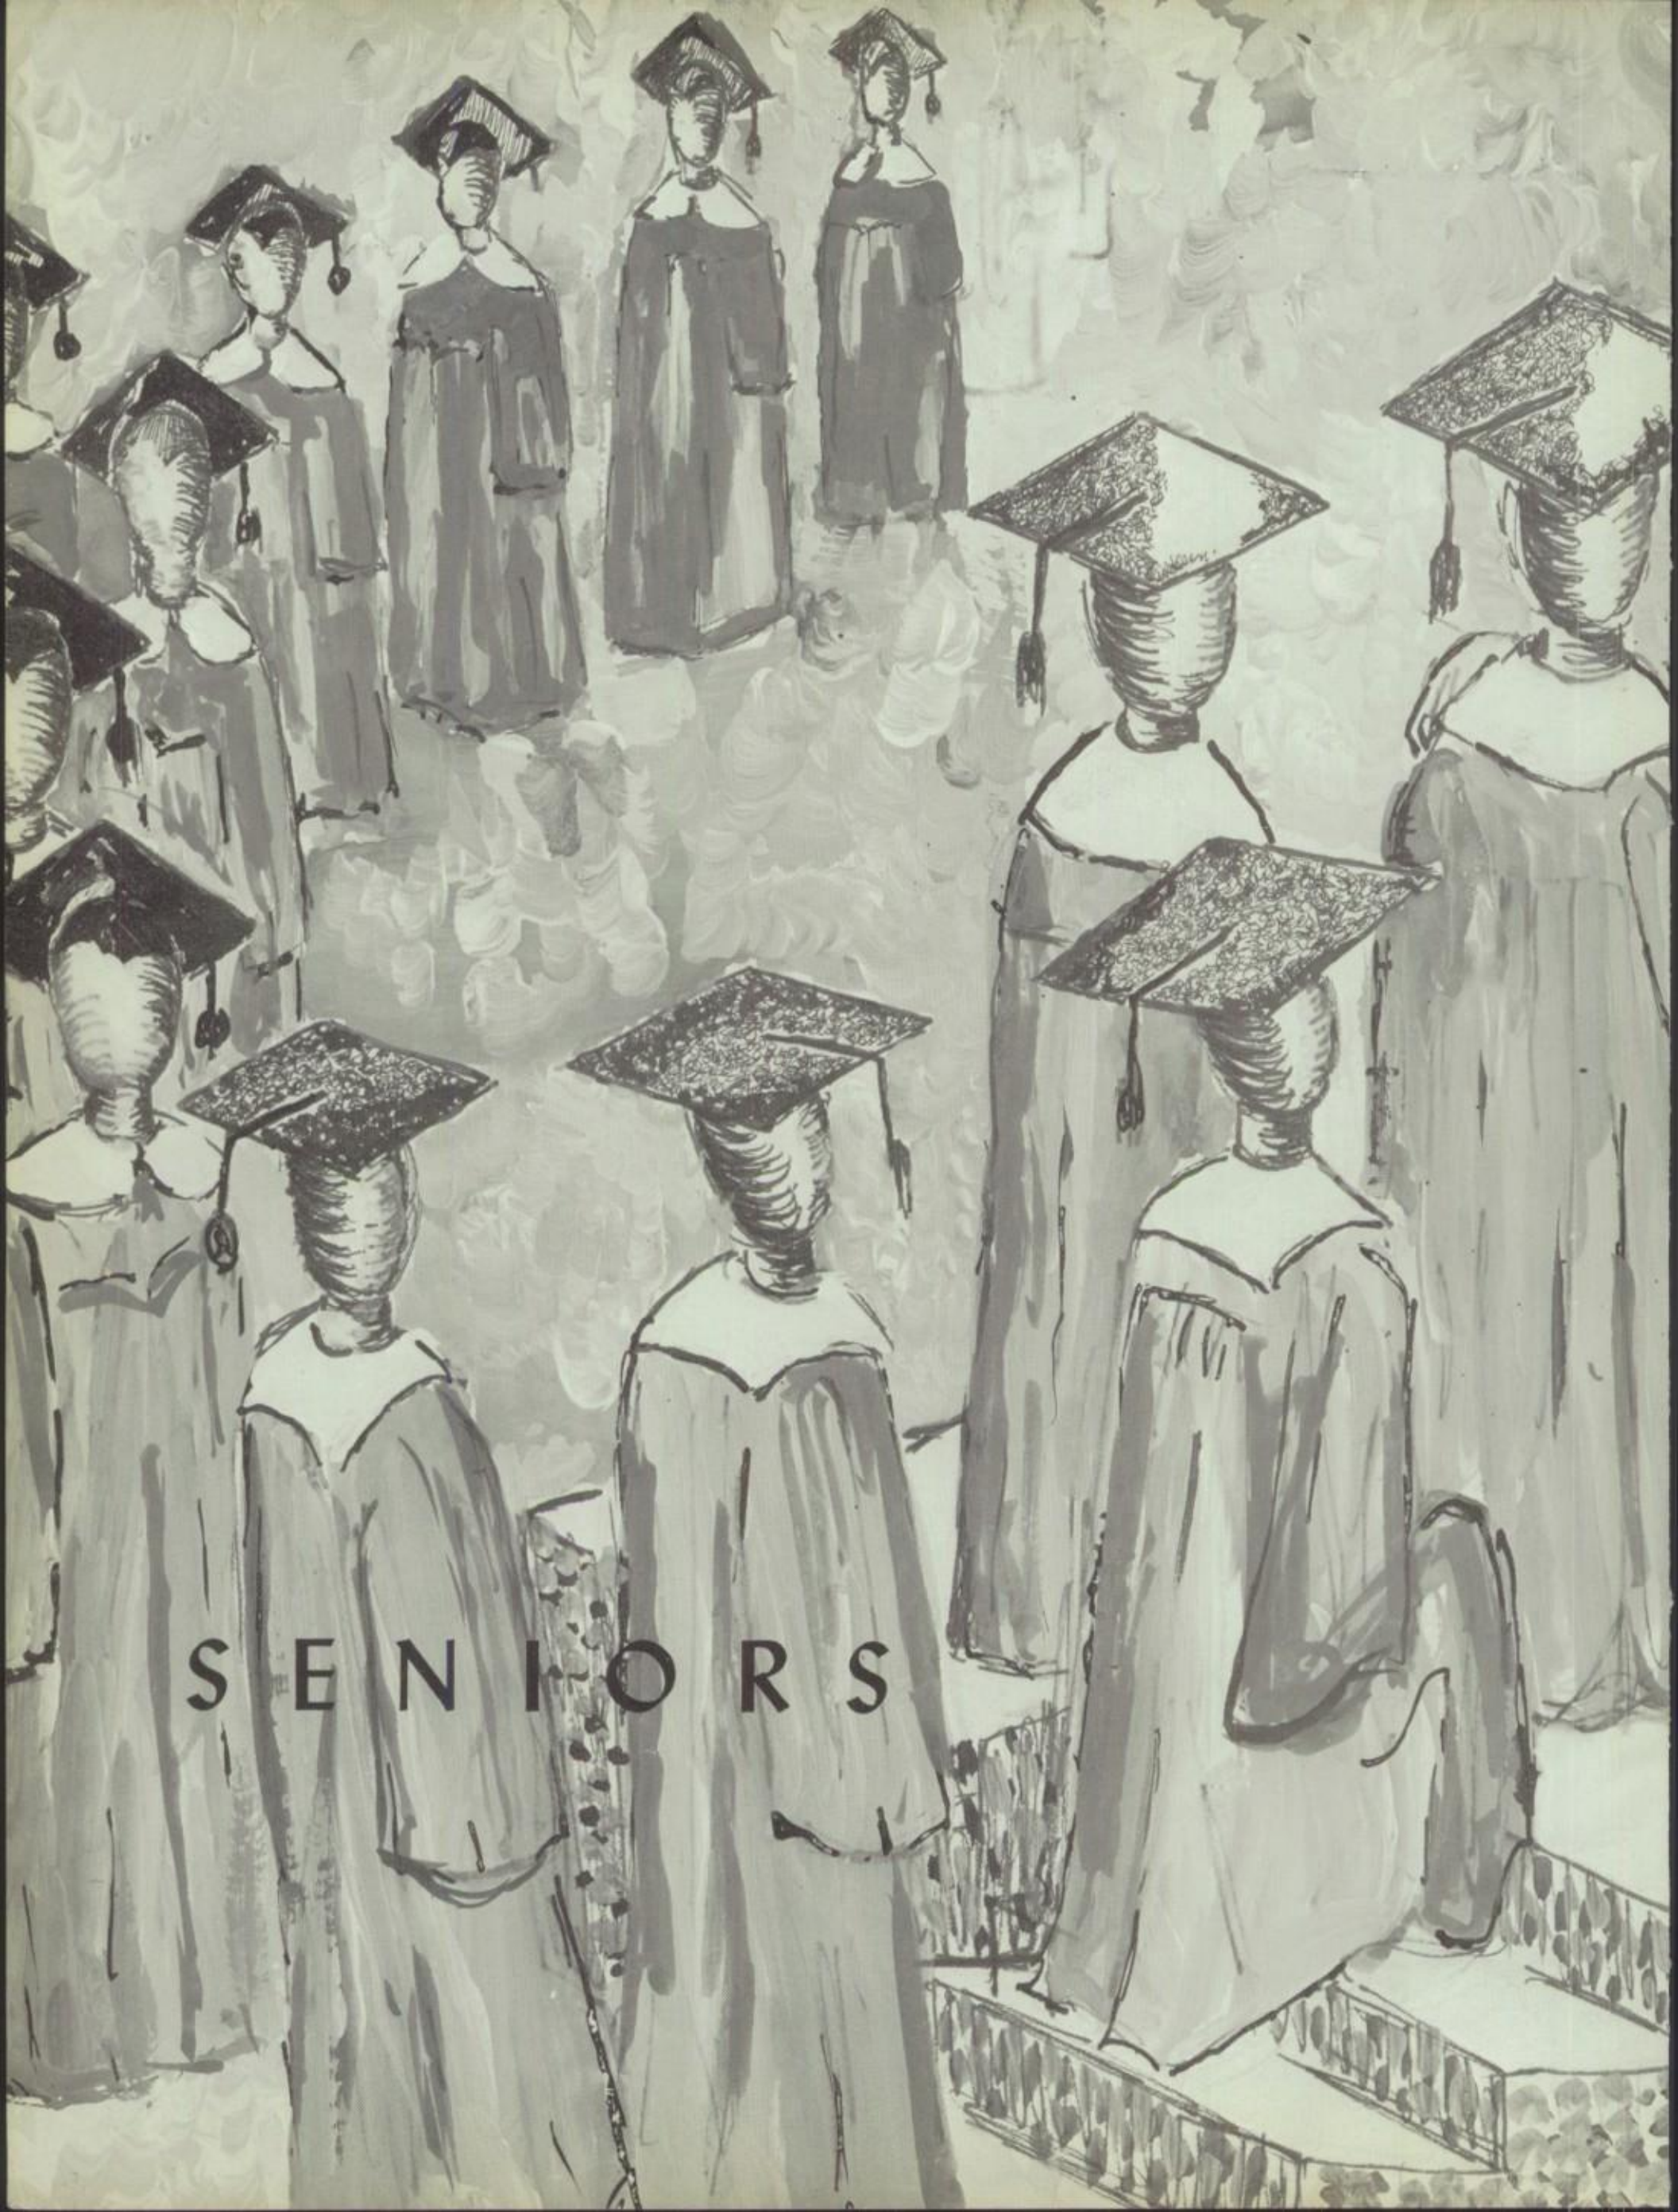

WALLMEN

Last year, the handball team closed one of the most successful and exciting campaigns in the school's history. The team copied the Brooklyn Division 1B title with a 9 and 1 league record before succumbing to Lincoln in the playoffs. The Wallmen scored double victories over Madison, Erasmus, Ft. Hamilton, and John Jay. League play ended on a high note because Midwood was the only team to defeat Tilden. Until then, both had identical 8-1 records. With tie scores in two games apiece, the match went into the final decisive doubles game. Here Jesse Cichocki and Steven Levine came from behind to score a victory and give Tilden the division title. Stars on last year's squad include Jose Colon, one of the most outstanding singles players in the city, Barry Monk and Richie Berkley at doubles, and Isaac Bruckman, Andrea Soto, and Dennis Burns at singles. Special attention should be paid to the doubles team of Jesse Cichocki and Steven Levine. They will be returning this year after winning all eleven doubles games they played in 1966. The outlook for this year's team seems promising. The team, under newly-appointed coach Leo Hirsh, has many outstanding returnees from last year, including Marc Berger, Barry Monk, Andrea Soto, Frank Sacco, Bruce Sheiner, and Mark Teihman. These players, with the returning undefeated doubles team should form the nucleus of the 1967 squad, and put the Wallmen back in top contention for the division championship.

A SENIOR CALENDAR

September

- 12—Return of the natives.
- 13—An industrial Senior tries to sell a floor spot in gym to a Sophomore.
- 14—The Sophomore tries to sell it to a Freshman.
- 15—The gym teacher gives out floor spots (the jig is up).
- 20—Student body anxiously awaits a glimpse of Mr. Shapiro.
- 30—We're still waiting.

October

- 1—Mr. Shapiro sticks arm out of office.
- 2—Mr. Shapiro sticks leg out of office.
- 3—Voilà, the total man.
- 7—Impending Senior Sing victory announced.
- 8—Juniors hold meeting, decision reversed.
- 15—W. says that Seniors must conduct themselves with dignity at Sing meetings.
- 16—Okay Music Man, you act your age and we'll act ours.

November

- 2—Sept. issue of Topics comes out. Uncle Schwartz what took you so long?
- 5—Midterm schedule announced—already?
- 6—Seniors announce intention of devoting half an hour daily to studying.
- 20—Thanksgiving coming up soon, we'll study then.
- 22—It looks like third place again. But look at the bright side, at least there's no Freshman Sing.

December

- 1—Midterms are upon us—gee, we should have studied.
- 5—We get our marks back. Well there's always finals.
- 7—Abe Podolak declares that he will commit suicide if Seniors lose.
- 10—Tension builds—will Abe live?
- 11—No, we had a lousy meeting.
- 14—Seniors decide to carry real guns on stage. (Judges beware).
- 16—We died, not of a faulty part, but rather of a lousy start.
- 17—Senior victory—Abe will live!!!
- 19—Big deal, we knew we'd win.
- 24—A respite at long last.

January

- 3—Yech!!!
- 6—Finals . . . but didn't we just have midterms?
- 7—No, stupid, that was last month.
- 13—Seniors prepare to get their S.A.T. scores back (We're going to love college).
- 14—Big deal, who wanted to go to college anyway?
- 15—Automation has taken over. Tickets for the computer dance are going on sale today.
- 16—What is this school coming to? Students are actually buying tickets!
- 20—Why is inter-session only going to be four days? Doesn't this school have a heart?

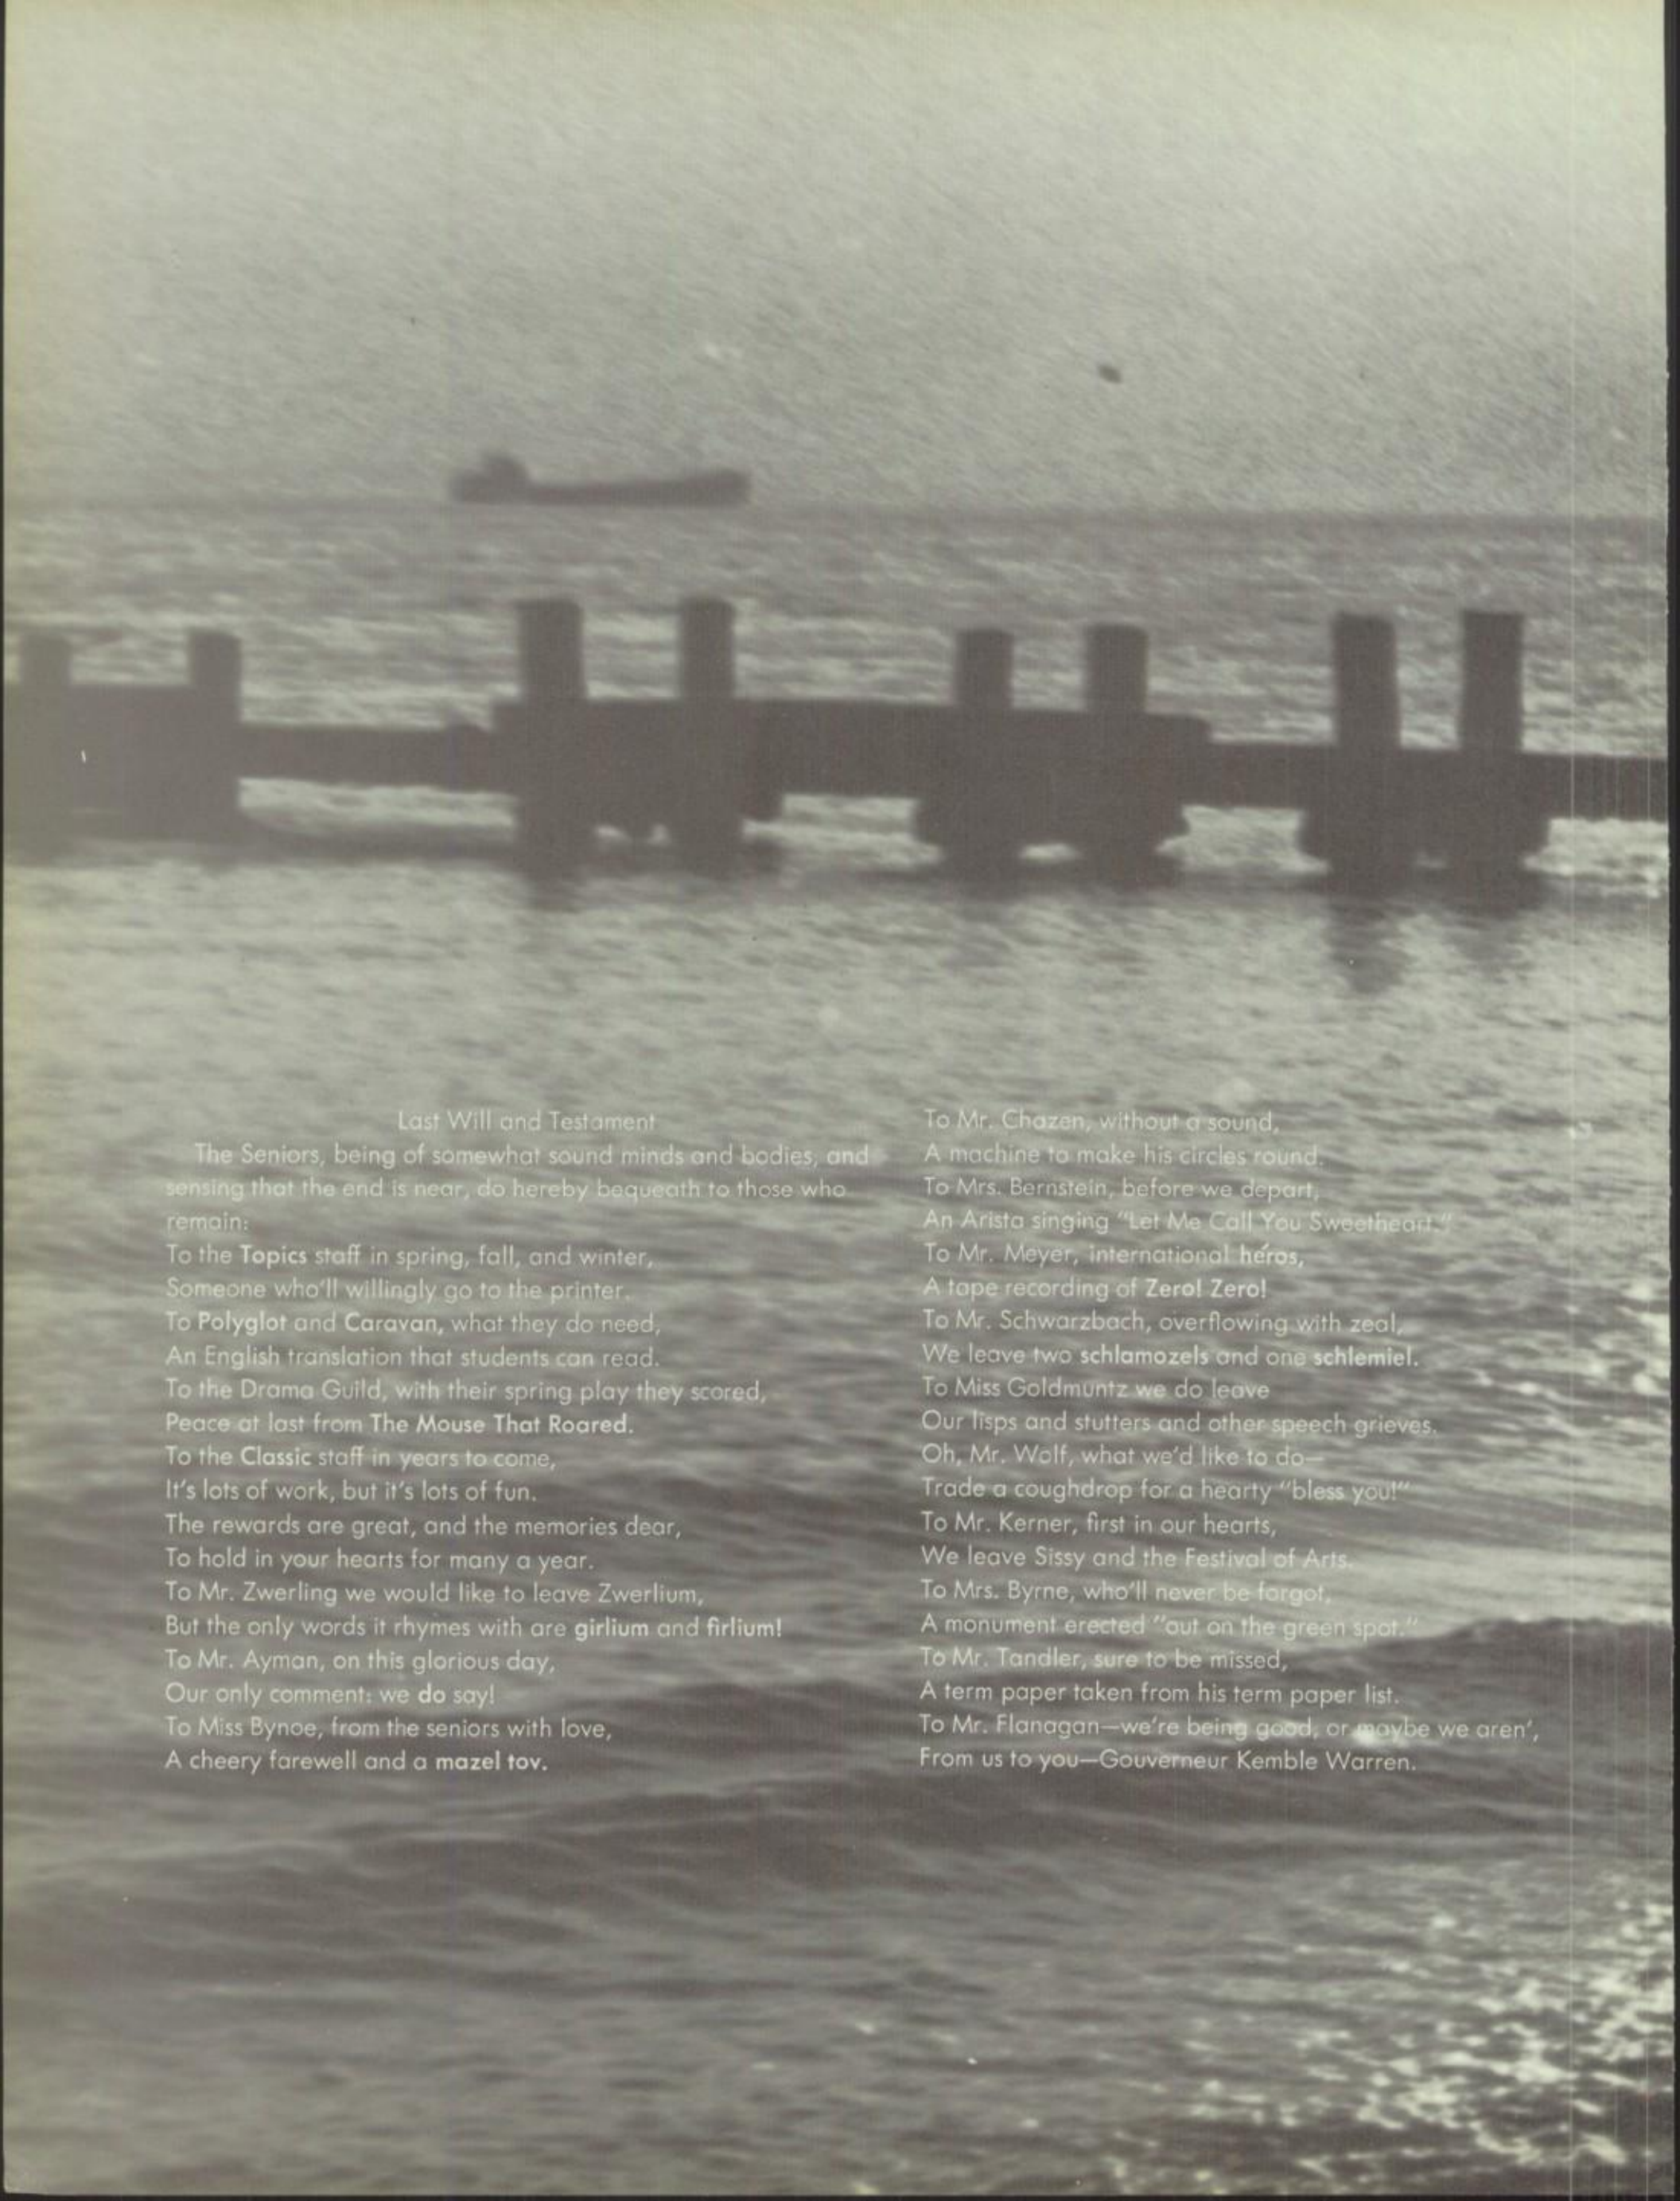

February

- 2—The hearty soldiers prepare for the final lap of their journey.
- 5—Petitions available for Senior officers (you can't avoid the draft forever).
- 10—Is Danny Rubin the real Tilden computer?
- 15—The candidates come before their people to have their say.
- 16—Seniors vote. Oh, that feeling of power as you make an "X" in the box in front of your girlfriend's boyfriend's name!
- 17—We go to a computer dance. A success. At least by Tilden standards (whatever they are).

March

- 9—March cards are filled out. Everyone suddenly becomes her girlfriend's size (in heels, of course).
- 10—A request is made for Senior dues.
- 11—Another request is made for Senior dues.
- 15—Arista installation, Senior beanies, Senior pictures, and awards assembly all on the same day. (Isn't that just like Tilden?)
- 17—If we don't all pay our Senior dues, nobody will get his button. (And this means you!)
- 20—Can it be true? Are 456 girls really running for prettiest Senior?
- 22—Election day once more.
- 24—Why are there only four beanie days?
- 25—Now we know why there are only four beanie days. Well, how much wear do you expect from a $1.00 hat?

WE'RE SORRY, BUT WE CAN'T GO ON,
AS WE MUST GO
TO PRESS. BUT
YOU CAN FILL IN THE REST YOUR-SELF.

Last Will and Testament

The Seniors, being of somewhat sound minds and bodies, and sensing that the end is near, do hereby bequeath to those who remain:

To the Topics staff in spring, fall, and winter,
Someone who'll willingly go to the printer.

To Polyglot and Caravan, what they do need,
An English translation that students can read.

To the Drama Guild, with their spring play they scored,
Peace at last from The Mouse That Roared.

To the Classic staff in years to come,
It's lots of work, but it's lots of fun.

The rewards are great, and the memories dear,
To hold in your hearts for many a year.

To Mr. Zwerling we would like to leave Zwerlium,
But the only words it rhymes with are girlium and firlium!

To Mr. Ayman, on this glorious day,
Our only comment: we do say!

To Miss Bynoe, from the seniors with love,
A cheery farewell and a mazel tov.

To Mr. Chazen, without a sound,

A machine to make his circles round.

To Mrs. Bernstein, before we depart,

An Arista singing "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

To Mr. Meyer, international héros,

A tape recording of Zero! Zero!

To Mr. Schwarzbach, overflowing with zeal,

We leave two schlamozels and one schlemiel.

To Miss Goldmuntz we do leave

Our lisps and stutters and other speech grieves.

Oh, Mr. Wolf, what we'd like to do—

Trade a coughdrop for a hearty "bless you!"

To Mr. Kerner, first in our hearts,

We leave Sissy and the Festival of Arts.

To Mrs. Byrne, who'll never be forgot,

A monument erected "out on the green spot."

To Mr. Tandler, sure to be missed,

A term paper taken from his term paper list.

To Mr. Flanagan—we're being good, or maybe we aren',

From us to you—Gouverneur Kemble Warren.

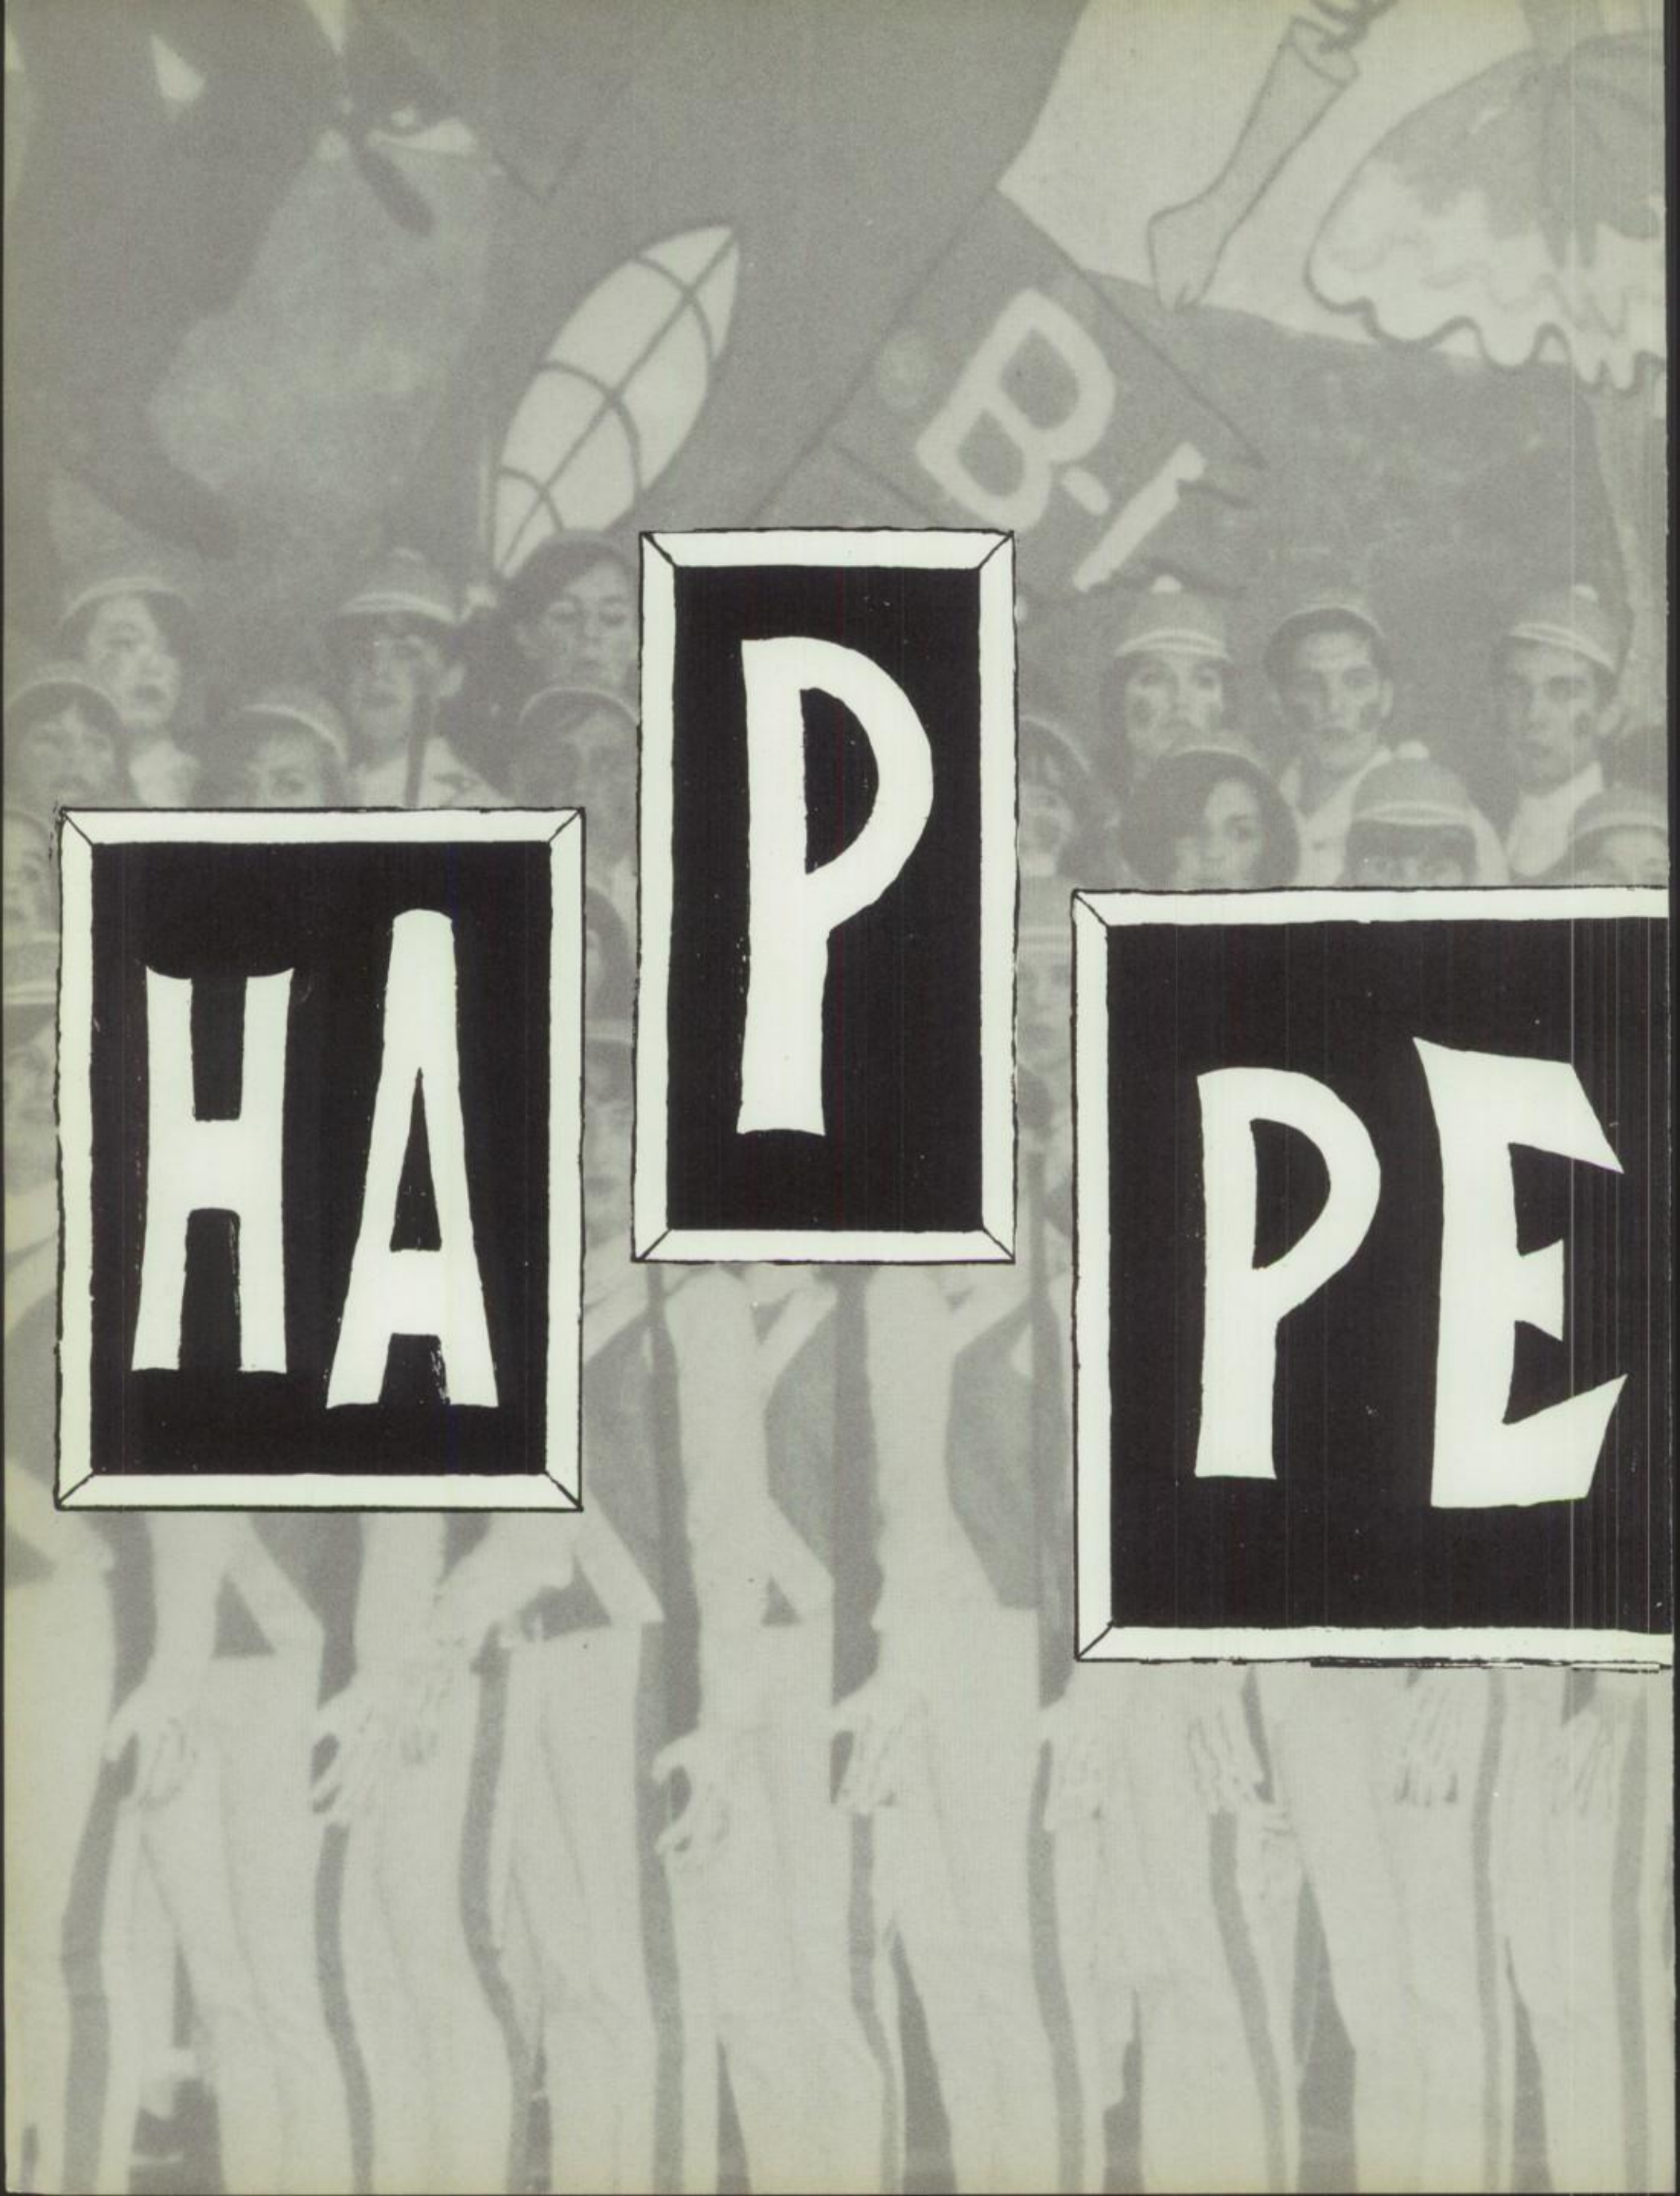

To Mr. Goldfarb, always witty and funny,
We leave a set of Monopoly money.
To Dr. Feingold, no fancy rhymes,
Just a copy of the Sunday Times.
To Mr. Zornberg and his Tilden Forum,
We leave an attendance of trice a quorum.
To Mr. Winston we leave just one thing—
A shiny new record of Senior Sing.
To Mrs. Lindquist, she's full of patience,
A less misleading name for Human Relations.
To Mrs. Zuckerman, may it happen soon,
An end to congestion in the locker room.
To Mr. Carney, our printing pro,
A great big smile and a cheerful "Hello!"
To those who remain in the grades below,
Our sincere best wishes before we go.

SOPHOMORE SING

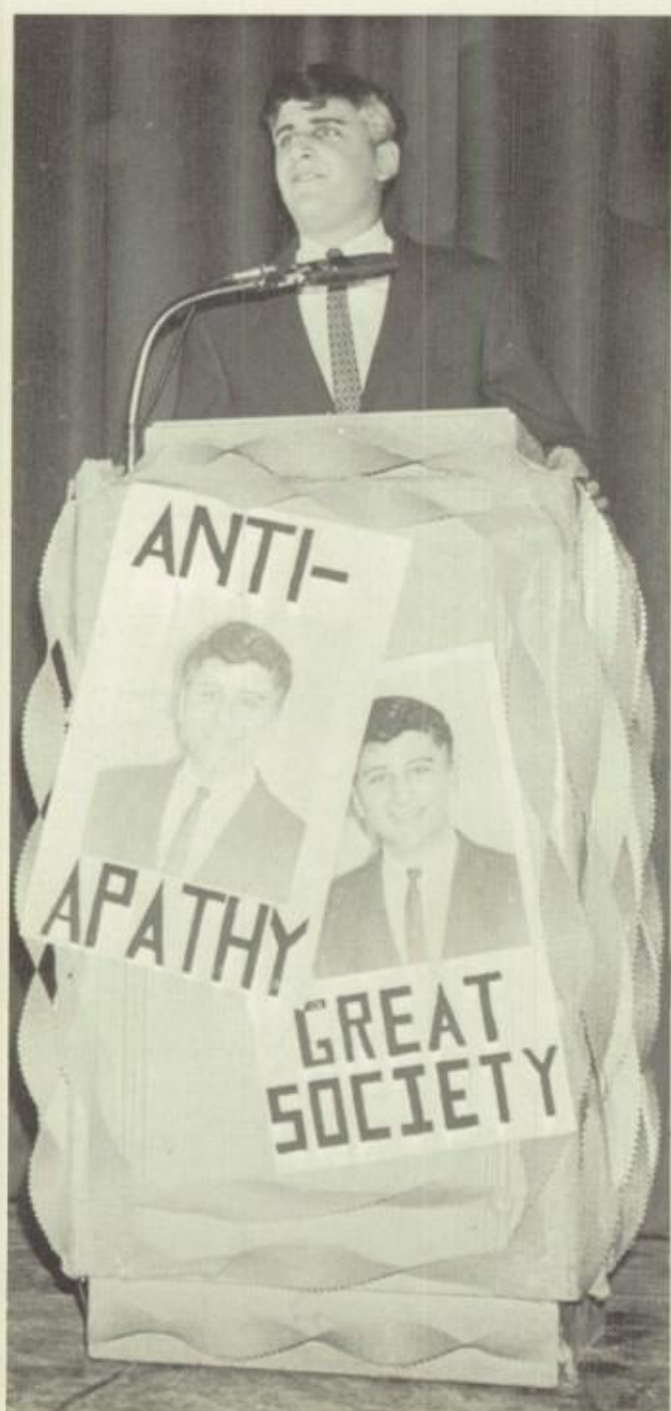

The lights are dimmed. The audience is hushed. Soph Sing is on its way!

The theme, automation, was very apropos to our times. The Sophs' spirit and enthusiasm were overwhelming. Their tiring work materialized into what was one of Tilden's best sophomore sings. Sherry Katz and Ellen Rosen were fiery, hard-working Sing Leaders.

With their idea of what can happen when machines take over men's jobs, the Sophs presented the audience with a humorous, though somewhat exaggerated, satire. But underneath, there was a subtle hint of realism; what might happen if computers are allowed to be rulers of men?

The scenery and props of Sophomore Sing showed much imagination and talent. The dancers were a delight to watch, as were the singers to hear. With the experience that the Sophs gained this past year, they will be something to be reckoned with next year.

JUNIOR SING

And as the house lights dimmed, a wild feeling pierced the hearts of the Juniors. It was spirit! Spirit was the essence of Junior Sing '66. For the members of the Junior class had a crazy thought this year. They really and truly felt that they could break tradition and come out on top. They were wrong, not by much, but still they put on a show that no member of the audience could forget.

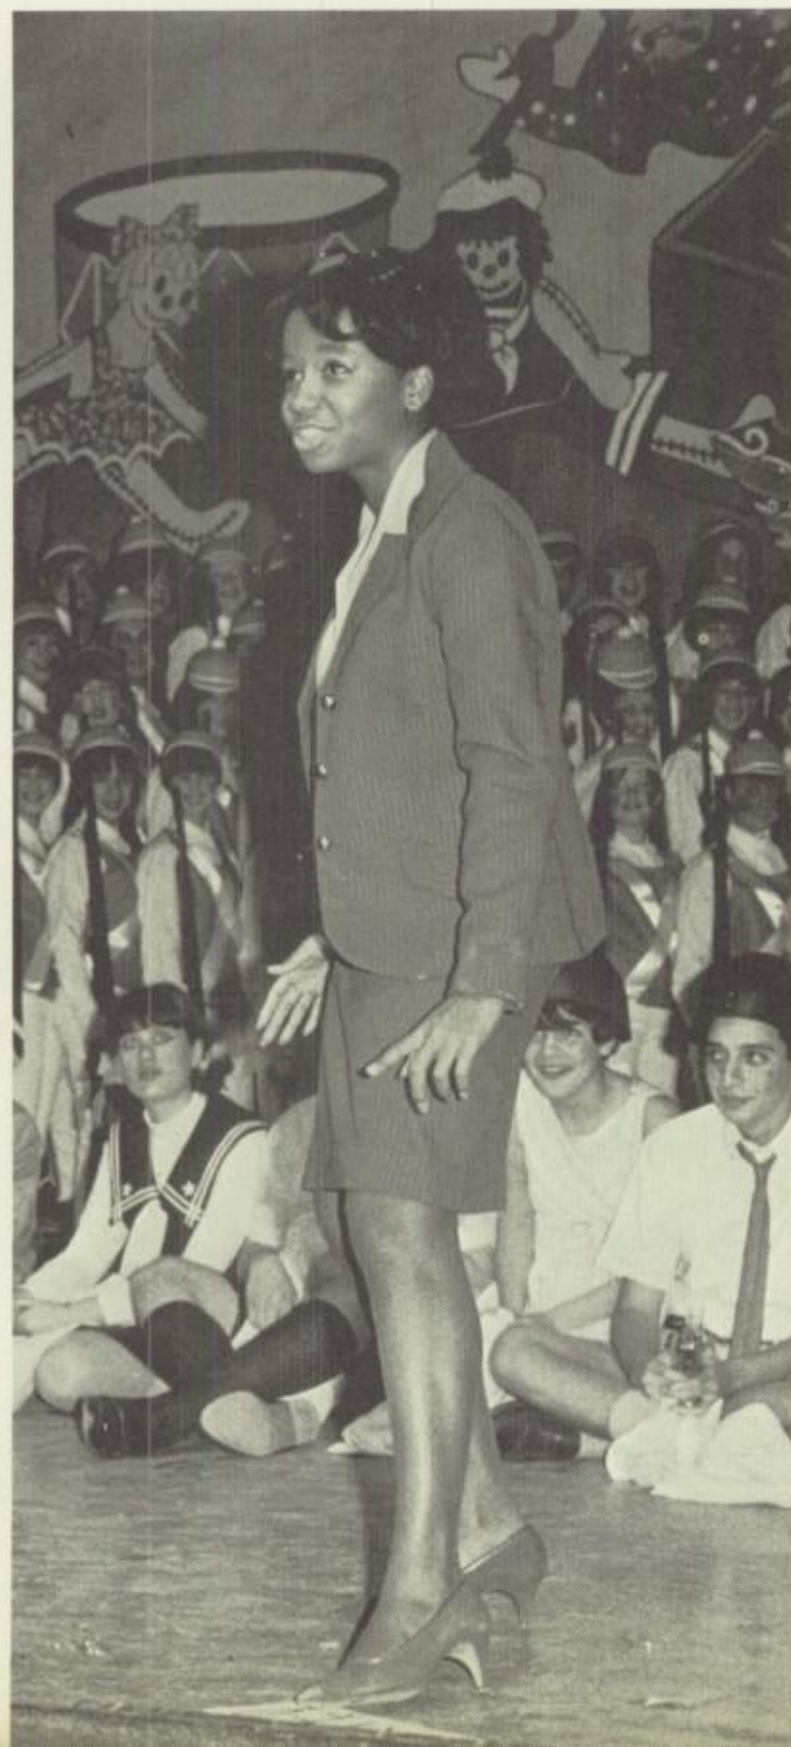

Today we live in an apathetic world, a world where citizen participation is lacking. This problem contributes to many of today's hard-to-control situations, situations that the Juniors dramatized. Through the campaign speech of a presidential candidate, these problems were brought to the attention of all, and numerous skits and musical numbers were "built in" for both emphasis and entertainment. Our uncontrollable air pollution, our physically unfit Americans, and the growing poverty in our world were among the situations mentioned.

Through the combined efforts of leaders Terri Kaslon and Ellen Turer, pianist Ira Cantor, and the willing, spirited, excited group of Juniors, "Juniors On Campaign" proved a thrilling experience for all. It was a victory not in points, but in spirit, because the Juniors knew deep within that they gave all they had. This spirit is what keeps Tilden Sing alive.

SENIOR SING

Senior Sing

"Senior Sing is finished," yet the memory of it will linger on in our minds for many years. When the words are long forgotten, a familiar tune will bring back fond memories of the many weeks of preparation, committee meetings, and late rehearsals in the last few hectic days before the big night.

Our sincerest thanks go to leaders Ellen Steinberg and Abe Podolak for putting together "the most sophisticated Sing in school history." They were aided in their work by pianist Suzanne Press, and were ably guided by Mr. Lesley Winston.

Senior Sing or "The Introspection and Condemnation of a Hyperviolent Society as Performed By the Members of the Senior Class of Samuel J. Tilden High School Under the Direction of Their Esteemed Leaders" was truly what its name suggests: a study of the violence to which the children of our generation are exposed through their toys, and of course through television. The setting of the story was a toy shop, and the chorus represented toy soldiers. The cast members played toys of violence, such as Honey West and G.I. Joe dolls, while a Jack-In-The-Box, and a Ballerina doll represented the old fashioned, non-violent toys of yesterday. The scene shifted to a television schoolroom, where the teacher instructed her students in the art of self-defense by use of judo and karate. Returning to the toy shop, we find the Ballerina in the midst of a battle among spy dolls, during which she is killed. Her death symbolizes the depths to which our society has sunk, when simple, quiet people are not permitted to live in peace.

Finally, after three years, our class was to know the sweet taste of success. Yet our happiness was overshadowed by the reminder that it was a Senior Sing, and therefore it would be our last in Tilden. It was our last chance to "step into the limelight" as a group, and the memory of it will stay with us for years to come.

Principal's Tea

On an afternoon in January, 1967 the faculty of our school held its first tea in the Tilden library. Never before had the faculty enjoyed such a party. The library was set up with a very warm and inviting decor. The delicious aroma of hot coffee and assorted cakes permeated the entire area.

Mr. David Goldfarb, Chairman of the Welfare Committee, which sponsored the tea, did a beautiful job of organizing the affair. He also spoke at the affair.

There were mixed emotions that afternoon, since the tea was both the official welcome to our new principal, Mr. Shapiro, and yet held fond memories of the happy years with Mr. Margolies. Retiring teachers were also honored at this occasion.

There were present, other than our faculty and secretaries, many local school board representatives as well as principals from neighboring schools. Mr. Meyers, the District Superintendent of Schools, attended.

Mr. Meiselman, head of the Tilden chapter of the U.F.T., and Mrs. Frauenglas, President of the P.T.A., spoke at the tea.

The afternoon was a huge success. Everyone enjoyed the new and unusual affair.

The Festival of the Arts

A Festival of the Arts was introduced in Tilden this May by Mr. Shapiro. This "festival" included various presentations, such as the Spring concert, the Spring play—"The Mouse That Roared"—and a debate about the arts. Each extra-curricular activity in the school contributed to our Festival, just as each had contributed to the Carnival. The students were thus provided with fine entertainment and an opportunity to learn about and participate in the arts.

Warren Zimmerman

Carnival

On the night of April 7 the G.O. sponsored a Carnival and "Soul City" Discotheque. Each extra-curricular activity in Tilden, ranging from the football team to the Tilden Forum, from Sing to the Boosters, sponsored a booth. These festivities, as well as the discotheque, were held in the Girl's Gymnasium. In addition, the Drama Guild performed a skit in the Girl's Corrective Gym.

The Carnival Commission, consisting of Marc Abrahams, Robyn Cowan, Helen Druce, Terry Kaslon, Sandy Lipkowitz, Ira Rubin, and Ellen Turer, started working in January. Prizes were donated by local stores.

Admission was 50¢. Each game cost a nickel. The evening was concluded with a "pot luck auction" of the unclaimed prizes. The event was an overwhelming success.
